Goes to Pueblo Monday Regarding Election Law

Interpreting the recent decision of the supreme court to mean that cities under charter government cannot pass separate election laws, but shall be governed by the law pertaining to state elections, City Attorney McKesson probably will go to Pueblo next Monday to confer with the city attorneys of Pueblo and Grand Junction regarding the matter. The Springs charter provides that elections for city officers must be nonpartisan, but in the opinion of Judge McKesson, two support bases on nonpartisan elections in view of the supreme court decision. This, it is the only reason for our charter affected by the decision.

New York times were greatly worried during the first week of the season. They expected to hear every minute that the Highlanders had fallen out of the league.

The record for the shortest game is 22 minutes, played September 17, 1910, between Atlanta and Mobile teams at Atlanta. Full nine innings.

Attention in the South

Carl B. Balcomb, the Colorado Springs lecturer who is touring the south in the interest of the good roads movement, and incidentally boosting this city and the Pikes Peak region, is receiving considerable attention and much favorable comment from the press of the south. Among other cities he has visited are Lockhart and San Marcos, Tex., where he lectured last Tuesday and today.

The Lockhart Daily News says of the lecture: "Good roads has become a life issue within the last few years throughout the United States. Outside of Texas perhaps no other state has attracted wider attention because of its activity in this direction than has Colorado. The successful employment of convict labor has the public mind. The remarkable results which have been obtained in opening new and wonderful scenic highways has riveted attention upon the Centennial state. Last year, many people made the trip overland from this state, spending weeks touring the roads radiating from Pikes Peak to all parts of the Rocky mountain region. Many of these roads have been built by convict labor, and the results are said to have been highly satisfactory, not only from the point of view of the road maker, but from the beneficial effect physically and morally upon the convicts themselves. In his travelogue Mr. Balcomb told of these roads and the manner in which they were built. He has made a special point to secure a series of slides and motion pictures showing picturesque bits of Colorado road."

NEW YORK, May 2.—Directors of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad company directed today a special stockholders' meeting to authorize a proposed issue of $200,000,000 refunding bonds.

The directors of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad company today directed the calling of a special stockholders' meeting to authorize a mortgage securing an issue of $200,000,000 of refunding bonds, which will be used to refund the company's existing mortgage and to acquire additional lands and equipment.

This mortgage, together with the existing Missouri Pacific refunding mortgage, will provide the amounts for the financing needed by the Missouri Pacific & Iron Mountain systems.

Kimmel, Alias White, Declares Operation Will Restore Memory

CHICAGO, May 2.—"When my head is healed from this operation, I shall prove that I am George A. Kimmel," said the Niles, Mich., "man of mystery," who went for several years under the name of Andre White, contending that a blow on the head had befogged his memory.

As Kimmel's mother and sister refused to recognize White as Kimmel, partly because he could not recall certain details of the younger years of their lives, the subject of dispute had an operation performed to remove a pressure on the brain. The patient is recovering. Although the surgeons in charge would not allow the patient to talk tonight of his past life as he remembered it, the patient was quoted by the surgeon as saying:

"My memory will return and I will vindicate myself. My mother and half the world now denounce me as an impostor, but when I am well I will prove their charges false."

Newlywed Naval Officer Succumbs to Injuries

NEW YORK, May 2.—Lieutenant Ray Stuart McDonald, U. S. N., died in a Brooklyn hospital tonight as the result of a fractured skull sustained in a fall from a trolley car.

Lieutenant McDonald, who was stopping with his bride at a Brooklyn hotel, attempted to board a car at the Brooklyn end of the bridge when his foot slipped and he was hurled against a elevated railroad pillar.

It is understood Lieutenant McDonald had been on waiting orders and intended to return to duty at Washington tomorrow.

Lieutenant McDonald was married about a month ago in Washington to Katherine Fleisher, daughter of the late Capt. L. C. Fleisher, U. S. N.

Lieutenant McDonald was a member of the 1st New York Cavalry, and was killed in action at the battle of Gettysburg.

BRITISH INQUIRY INTO TITANIC DISASTER OPENS

LONDON, May 2.—Lord Mersey in his capacity as wreck commissioner and five assessors who will advise him in his questioning on the technicalities of the nautical act, today held the first session of the board of trade inquiry into the loss of the White Star steamer Titanic.

In point of interest to the public and importance of its results on the laws governing the Mercantile Marine, the investigation promises to overshadow all previous tribunals of a similar character.

From the 26 questions which the attorney general announced would be taken up it became evident the inquiry would cover practically the same ground as the investigation by the committee of the American senate, but would be conducted more in accordance with the procedure of a court of law and dealt definitely with stated cases.

Subjects to be Taken Up. Eight questions, Sir Rufus Daniel Isaacs, said would relate to happenings before the casualty; six to warnings given the Titanic and the resulting precautions taken; ten to the casualty itself and consequent events; one to the equipment and construction of the vessel and the last to the rules of the merchant shipping act.

The model of the Titanic carrying 18 minute life boats and a big chart of the North Atlantic were prominently displayed before the investigators. In front of the platform which they occupied were seated 100 members of the bar representing various interests involved and 100 newspaper men.

The only reference to the American investigation was Sir Rufus' announcement that owing to the detention of many witnesses for the senatorial inquiry in the United States, the testimony would not be presented in a logical order.

The seamen who arrived from New York on the Lapland were called first as witnesses as to the construction and equipment of the Titanic.

Lord Mersey recognized Thomas Scanlan, member of parliament for the north division of Sligo, who appeared for the Seamen's and Firemen's union, and an attorney for the Merchant's service guild and took under consideration the application for representation of the Seafarers' union, the Ship Constructors' association and the Mercantile Officers' union.

An adjournment then was taken. The scene of the hearing was the armory of the Scottish rifles which, with its broad drill floor with two rows of galleries, affords accommodations for several hundred persons. When the inquiry opened not more than 100 spectators were present and the majority of these were women. Because the acoustics proved to be poor, Lord Mersey recommended that the board of trade provide another room.

Sir Rufus said during the hearing, "I desire on behalf of the government to express the deepest sympathy for all those who mourn the loss of relatives and friends among the passengers, the officers and crew of the ill-fated vessel. The accident occurred in magnitude and in harrowing incidents and disaster in the history of the mercantile marine. I cannot forbear paying a tribute to those whose devotion to duty and heroic self-sacrifice maintained the best traditions of the sea."

Sir Robert Finlay, chief counsel for the White Star Steamship company, seconded these remarks, repeating that the disaster had given an opportunity for a display of heroism and devotion to duty which had maintained the best traditions of the mercantile marine.

Pat and "Cat" From the London Weekly Telegraph. Two in the good old days, when the cat was used freely. Scene—quarter-deck of H. M. S. Hardyship.

Pat Murphy and Jock McLean had been breaking heads and had been ordered to receive 10 strokes each of the cat. When the time came for their punishment the captain, considering their previous good character, said that if they wished to wear anything to protect their backs a little they could do so.

The Scotchman replied that he would like to have a strip of canvas on his back. The request was granted and then Pat, on being asked what he would like, exclaimed, "Share! sor, if it is all the same to you, I would like to have the Scotchman on my back."

LUXURIES AS NECESSITIES Silk Hose Have become a Necessity of Course.

From the New York Evening Post. The elaborate footwear that the present season has brought forth has created a demand for hosiery that is equally attractive. The stockings should, of course, match the tone of the slippers. They do not come in the regular stock, but have to be dyed and made up to match the weird shades of the current fashions.

The days have gone by when the Christmas gift stockings are wrapped in pink tissue paper and laid away in the top drawer, only to be brought out for state occasions. Every day is a state occasion now. If one may judge by the prevalence of silk hosiery. Fortunately, the manufacturers are making them up half silk, and with a little or cotton foot and garter top, thus lessening the cost, and tempering with good sense the temptation to buy silk stockings.

Hosiery of plain (tans) is used for street wear, and the open-ork designs for evening. A beautiful pair of which are all the rage.

brodered on the instep in polka dots, are a popular accompaniment for white satin or white buckskin pumps. Such stockings come in brown, gray, purple and white.

Quaint French clocks are again fashionable. Some come single, while others there are four lines ending in the arrowhead design.

UNDERWOOD'S LEAD IN TWO STATES INCREASED

UNDERWOOD'S LEAD IN TWO STATES INCREASED

ATLANTA, Ga., May 2.—Delayed returns from the presidential primary in Georgia yesterday continue to add to the plurality of Oscar Underwood. Official results have been received from 146 counties, and these, with the unofficial returns from the other 40, show a plurality for the Alabamian of 14,210. The official canvass will change these figures but slightly.

The total votes for the four candidates follow:

Underwood, 71,586; Woodrow Wilson, 58,341; Champ Clark, 20,867; Judson Harmon, 8,257.

Although Governor Wilson carried more than 30 counties in the state, including those containing the larger cities, he will not get a fraction of the Georgia delegation to the Baltimore convention. Under the order of the state Democratic executive committee, the state convention, which will meet May 29, will be composed of delegates instructed for the popular choice of the state. This means that Underwood is sure of the 28 delegates from Georgia.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 2.—Returns from Tuesday's presidential primary, with several counties missing, and a few other incomplete tonight show a majority for Underwood over Wilson of 5,464 votes in the contests for state offices, a second primary will be necessary to decide the winner in at least two races.

Gov. J. M. A. Nathan, M. C. Nathan, governor, with Cromwell Gibbons, W. H. Hilton and J. W. Watson following in the order named. A runoff will be necessary between Trammill and Gibbons.

Congressman Frank Clarke and S. J. Auburn, his leading opponent in the second district, also will enter the second primary.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT AN EPOCH IN MUSICAL LIFE

BY EDWARD S. PARSONS

Colorado Springs was not awake to the character of the concert given last evening at Perkins hall by the orchestra of the Colorado Springs Musical club, or the hall would have been crowded instead of being only a third full. But those who went had a treat, and they made up in appreciation and enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers. It was really an epoch in the musical life of Colorado Springs. It was a surprise to most of those who were present to hear an orchestra composed wholly of residents of the city, play music of the best type with such a swing and dash and interpretative power as gave interest to every part of the program.

Before this year such an event was not possible. It has been made possible by the hearty cooperation of the members of the musicians union of this city, 21 of whom are in the orchestra. These professional musicians have given of their time most cordially, and their spirit and skill have carried the other 12 over the many hard places in the way of such an organization at its inception.

Program is Varied.

The long program was full of variety, and showed the breadth of the work already done. Every number was cordially received. If any should be selected for special praise, most would choose the unfinished symphony in B minor by Schubert, and the Schumann concerto, which Mrs. Hawkins played with her usual brilliancy, the orchestra accompanying. The Ave Maria of Schubert, with Mrs. Howe's violin solo, was much enjoyed. A personal interest was given to the program by the rendering of the first suite composed by Mr. Lyons, the first cornetist of the orchestra. Mr. Brett gave a well executed number, a Bach fugue.

The performance itself was most creditable, but more than that, it was a prophecy of even better days to come. With such a nucleus and such a beginning under the efficient leadership of Mr. Barnes, Colorado Springs need no longer be starved as it has been for orchestral music. It remains now for every music lover in the city to show the active appreciation and support of which the new organization has proved itself to be worthy.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT TIME LIMIT FOR

"critical" the fact that in the last year the church has gained less than 2 per cent in membership, notwithstanding the outlay of millions of dollars.

"That greed for wealth, sports and forms of amusement have taken away from the church, it is useless to deny," he said. He attributed the small growth partly to the system of dropping from membership those who left their church without letters and failed to report to another church within a year.

"Species of Commercialism."

The tendency of ministers to go to a church because the salary was inviting, Bishop Cranston pronounced a "species of commercialism."

"In the last year," said the report, "the church has made a net gain of but 55,000, which is less than 2 per cent, as the outcome of the year's activities and the outlay of many millions of dollars. The statistical paradox glares us out of countenance. It shames and humiliates us. What are honors of offices worth in any army that does not win battles? No marvel that some are proposing to reduce the major generals to post duty and let the army dissolve into antique ecclesiastical camps."

This was a reference to a proposed limiting of the activities to a local district in the United States. The proposal now is universal. Some of the reasons for the meager growth as set forth were laid to a too strict application of the law of the church, demanding that all members who remove from a given community without their church letters be dropped from membership after one year.

"A fair calculation," the report said, "reveals the astounding fact that probably not less than 500,000 members disappeared from our rolls by reason of the 'dropping' process."

"Drunk With Vain Philosophy"

"Nevertheless, we still face the patient fact that our distinctive doctrines are not being emphasized as they were once, or where preached are discarded for the time by a gainsaying world drunk with vain philosophy and satiated with gluttonous indulgences."

Pleading for an emphasis on the distinctive Wesleyan doctrines, the report said they were the only power to save the nation against vice.

"Where is the evidence that science has ever regenerated, one soul or that culture has redeemed one libertine, or taken envy, malice, pride, jealousy or greed out of any heart. These utterances are not reactionary unless this world has outgrown Jesus Christ.

"Our second lapse is that our system is not being worked as it formerly was. Certain distinctive parts have been abandoned, others modified. Innovations, nervous to our system as well

DRUNKEN CONVICT MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Is Third Inmate Nevada Penitentiary to Elude Guards Within 24 Hours

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 2. All prisoners in the state road camps and on the state prison farm were returned to the penitentiary tonight by order of Warden Baker, but not early enough to prevent a third escape within 24 hours.

Diogenes James, convicted and sent to the most dangerous men in the penitentiary, slipped out of the grounds during the confusion incident to the return of the "honor men." A posse with bloodhounds, sent out on his trail, met the empty handed state police returning from a fruitless chase of Frank Webb and James Lyle, who took flight from the prison farm last night. When Warden Baker was informed late Monday that he had been superseded, he advised the prison board to call in all men in the camps and on the farm, lest escape follow. No action was taken until today, when the warden's assertion was verified.

Nor was the third escape tonight unexpected. The prisoners were brought by guarded special train, with their beds, bedding and baggage, as near the penitentiary as the tracks ran, but still they had a mile to walk, and the arrival of so many men trooping through the gates at once was sure to tax discipline.

The future of the honor system, by which convicts were widely scattered over the state with only nominal supervision, is in doubt. What policy the new warden will take when he assumes office has not been announced.

as to our super-vigilant methods have intervened to the hurt of both."

The report condemned the practice that was said to have grown up in certain churches of calling in evangelists to carry on revival services against the former custom which placed the local pastor in charge of that work.

Condemns Congregational System.

Turning from this the report condemned the so-called congregational system of calling pastors for local churches, which was said to have become general in Methodism.

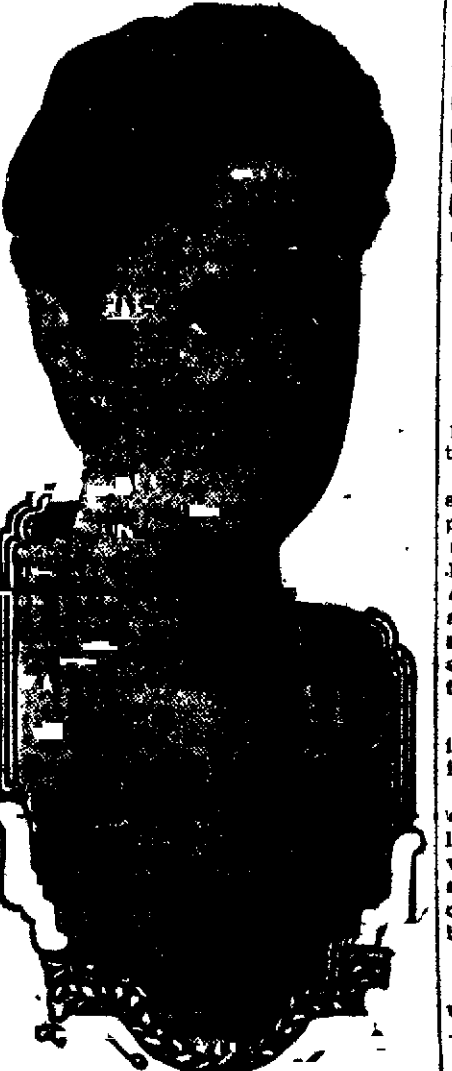

Referring to discussions in the church publications the report said: "We understand the church maintains a press for the advocacy of her doctrines and the defense of her polity, when assailed, not as a free forum for the vagaries of writers, who measure all problems by their own door-yard, or officially to sanction the promoters of dissatisfaction. While we would not restrain dignified and legitimate discussion of proposed amendments or reforms, we deprecate the admission of ill-considered and intemperate criticisms of our polity or church agencies."

One of the proposals before this conference is that the bishops be placed in definite charge of the work in the territory adjacent to their episcopal residence. On this point the report said:

"We ask the fixing of two or three more episcopal residences in this country at strategic centers. With these additions we believe that areas for episcopal supervisions can be so related to the residence cities as to meet the express desire for continuous oversight by resident bishops without any infringement of the restrictive rule."

EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR RIVER REPAIR WORK

WASHINGTON, May 2.—With the understanding that an emergency existed, the house today passed without debate a bill appropriating $50,000 for immediate repairs to the Missouri river levees opposite Sioux City, Iowa.

South Polar Mountain Bears Her Name. "I consider it a compliment to American women," said Mrs. John Gade of New York in speaking of the news her husband has just received that a great mountain in the Antarctic territory of the South pole was named after her by the Swedish explorer, Amundsen, on his last historic trip. Mr. Gade is a warm personal friend of Amundsen's, who wrote the letter telling of the honor he bestowed upon Mrs. Gade two weeks after he discovered the pole. Mrs. Gade is keeping the letter in remembrance of the mountain bearing her name which she never parts from.

portion of the city will be flooded. Only the wholesale district would be affected.

Many appeals for assistance were sent to Baton Rouge last night from persons marooned because of the Terran break. The homeless are constantly arriving at Baton Rouge and boats and launches are used as refuges as possible. Although there will be suffering among the refugees before all are taken to Baton Rouge, it is said the chance of loss of life is remote.

Last night a steady rain was softening the already strained levees and adding to the volume of water.

A peculiar situation exists at Melville, La. There the Atchafalaya 114 ft. levee in front of the town is holding but water from a break five miles down stream is backing up and flooding the outskirts of the town. This is an old break.

crevasse was flashed to every town on the west side of the river within a radius of 50 miles. It means the abandonment of thousands of homes in the territory south of Terran and property damage that will run into the millions.

On an anxious appeal for help relief was rushed from every direction today to persons in the flood territory affected by last night's crevasse. From many river points steamers and gasoline launches arrived and five trains came to take aboard refugees and live stock.

In anticipation of a levee break, the railroad companies had placed cattle cars at all sidings south of Terran and these are being loaded and moved to high ground. At Lettsworth and other small towns, men, women and children welcomed the opportunity to share cattle cars with their cows and horses.

Couriers rode all night through the lowlands south of here, warning persons who are without telephone connections. During the morning no word was received of loss of life, though several hundred head of cattle were drowned.

Millions of dollars of loss will be caused by the devastation of some of the most valuable farms and plantations in the state, it is feared by this new crevasse.

The crevasse here may slightly relieve the situation south of the Red river, but already the Mississippi from that place to 30 miles below New Orleans has within its banks more water than ever before recorded and there is increased anxiety for the safety of remaining levees.

CAIRO, Ill., May 2.—The flood from the Mississippi river again has submerged the country around Birds Point, Mo., just south of here, and the farmers—some of whom have been driven from their homes for the second time in six weeks.

When the waters receded recently many returned to their homes there and began repairing the damage caused by the flood, but this work was a waste as the flood is again sweeping through the homes in Birds Point and causing great destruction.

The flood in the drainage channel north of Cairo is seven feet deep.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 2.—At midnight the situation in Baton Rouge is perhaps more serious than at any other point along the remaining Mississippi levees. The water is coming over the levee and a break apparently is a certainty. Sacks of dirt are being piled on the embankments, but these are expected to do little good.

NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—With an even 21-foot stage in the Mississippi river at New Orleans tonight a half foot above all records, orders were issued by the levee board to double the force of laborers that has been blanketing the low stretches of embankment along the city front. Ten thousand additional sandbags were ordered filled and distributed throughout the commercial district.

Scrapage in some places has reached serious proportions and at several points above and below the city musk-rats are eating their way through the levee.

ASSURES PASSAGE GENERAL SERVICE PENSION MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Conferees of both houses of congress on the general service pension bill reached an agreement today on the basis of one senate bill with some amendments for advanced age and length of service. This action is said to assure the agreement of the general service bill.

The increases range from $5 a month for soldiers 66 years old who served two and a half years and up to those who served three years. Those 70 years old who served one and one-half years get $21.50; two years, $22; two and one-half years, $24; three years, $25. Those of 75 years who served two years get $27; two and one-half years, $28; three years, $29.

It is estimated that the increase in the government's pension expenditures for five years under the terms of the agreement will average about $25,000,000 annually.

St. L., I. M. & S. Ry. Co. to Issue $200,000,000 Bonds for Improvements

NEW YORK, May 2.—Directors of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad company directed today a special stockholders' meeting to authorize a proposed issue of $200,000,000 refunding bonds.

President Bush issued the following statement: "Directors of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad company today directed the calling of special stockholders' meeting to authorize mortgage securing an issue of $200,000,000 of refunding bonds, which will be used to refund, retire or acquire outstanding bonds of the company and for acquisitions, extensions, additions, betterments and equipment and the construction of acquisition of additional railroads or properties."

"This mortgage, together with the existing Missouri Pacific refunding mortgage, will provide the amounts for the financing needed by the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain systems."

Kimmel, Alias White, Declares Operation Will Restore Memory

CHICAGO, May 2.—"When my head is healed from this operation, I shall prove that I am George A. Kimmel," said the Niles, Mich., "man of mystery," who went for several years under the name of Andre White, contending that a blow on the head had befogged his memory.

As Kimmel's mother and sister refused to recognize White as Kimmel, partly because he could not recall certain details of the younger years of their lives, the subject of dispute had an operation performed to remove a pressure on the brain. The patient is recovering. Although the surgeons in charge would not allow the patient to talk tonight of his past life as he remembered it, the patient was quoted by the surgeon as saying:

"My memory will return and I will vindicate myself. My mother and half the world now denounce me as an impostor, but when I am well, I will prove their charges false."

Newlywed Naval Officer Succumbs to Injuries

NEW YORK, May 2.—Lieutenant Ray Straith McDonald, U. S. N., died in a Brooklyn hospital tonight as the result of a fractured skull sustained in a fall from a trolley car.

Lieutenant McDonald, who was stopping with his bride at a Brooklyn hotel, attempted to board a car at the Brooklyn end of the bridge when his foot slipped and he was hurled against an elevated railroad pillar.

It is understood Lieutenant McDonald had been on waiting orders and intended to return to duty at Washington tomorrow.

Lieutenant McDonald was married about a month ago in Washington to Kathryn McHenry, daughter of the late captain L. C. Heilner, U. S. N.

BRITISH TITANIC FUNDS APPROXIMATELY $1,600,000

LONDON, May 2.—The British Titanic funds amount approximately to $1,600,000. At a conference today it was decided to extend immediately to the widows and bereaved families of members of the crew, pending the organization of a committee to undertake the administration of the fund.

This committee will include the lord mayor, the Earl of Derby and the speaker of the House of Commons.

The lord mayor's suggestion it was decided to inquire whether the American relief committee could provide for immigrants who lost relatives that intended to settle permanently in the United States.

Jumps to Death Rather Than be Sent to Prison

GLOBE, Ariz., May 2.—While crossing the "bridge of sighs" between the county jail and the court house to receive sentence for murderous assault, Frank Ballant leaped over the railing and dropped 40 feet to the ground below. He was killed instantly.

According to fellow prisoners, Ballant feared a long sentence and declared that he would rather be dead than in the penitentiary.

William J. Connors of Buffalo, N. Y., former chairman of the Democratic state committee, is slowly recovering from the injuries he sustained from a fall in the basement of his new home on Delaware avenue. Mr. Connors is suffering from a dislocated shoulder and a badly sprained ankle.

Serves Jail Sentence at Night and Edits a Newspaper During Day

PABCO, Wash., May 2.—That the publication of a local paper may not be suspended, H. G. Roe, editor of the Washington Enterprise has been allowed by the superior court to serve out a 30-day sentence at night.

Roe, who was convicted of perjury in a case charging the 1911 election of Commissioner George H. Roe, with accepting a bribe, is released from jail each morning, works on the paper all day and returns to jail to be locked up each night.

BRITISH INQUIRY INTO TITANIC DISASTER OPENS

LONDON, May 2.—Lord Mersey in his capacity as wreck commissioner and five assessors who will advise him in his questioning on the technicalities of nautical affairs, today held the first session of the board of trade inquiry into the loss of the White Star steamer Titanic.

In point of interest to the public and importance of its results on the law governing the Mercantile Marine, the investigation promised to overshadow all previous tribunals of a similar character.

From the 26 questions which the attorney general announced would be taken up it became evident the inquiry would cover practically the same ground as the investigation by the committee of the American senate, but would be conducted more in accordance with the procedure of a court of law and dealt definitely with stated cases.

Subjects to be Taken Up.

Eight questions, Sir Rufus Daniel Isaacs, said would relate to happenings before the casualty, six to warnings given the Titanic and the resulting precautions taken; ten to the casualty itself and consequent events; one to the equipment and construction of the vessel and the last to the rules of the merchant shipping act. A 20-foot model of the Titanic carrying 16 miniature life boats and a big chart of the North Atlantic were prominently displayed before the investigators. In front of the platform which they occupied were seated 10 members of the bar representing various interests involved and 100 newspaper men.

The only reference to the American investigation was Sir Rufus' announcement that owing to the detention of many witnesses for the senatorial inquiry in the United States, the testimony would not be presented in a logical order.

The seamen who arrived from New York on the Lapland were called first as witnesses as to the construction and equipment of the Titanic.

Lord Mersey, a member of parliament for the north division of Silgo, who appeared for the Seamen's and Firemen's union, and an attorney for the Merchant's service guild and took under consideration the application for representation of the Seafarers union, the Ship Constructors association and the Mercantile Officers union.

An adjournment then was taken.

The scene of the hearing was the armory of the Scottish rifle which with its broad drill floor with two rows of galleries, affords accommodations for several hundred persons. When the inquiry opened not more than 100 spectators were present and the majority of these were women. Because the accounts proved to be poor, Lord Mersey recommended that the board of trade provide another room.

Sir Rufus said during the hearing: "I desire on behalf of the government to express the deepest sympathy for all those who mourn the loss of relatives and friends among the passengers, the officers and crew of the vessel. The accident extended in magnitude and in harrowing incidents any disaster in the history of the mercantile marine. I cannot forbear paying a tribute to those whose devotion to duty and heroic self-sacrifice maintained the best traditions of the sea."

Sir Robert Finlay, chief counsel for the White Star Steamship company, seconded these remarks, repeating that "the disaster has given an opportunity for a display of heroism and devotion to duty which had maintained the best traditions of the mercantile marine."

PAT AND "CAT"

From the London Weekly Telegraph.

"Twas in the good old days, when the "cat" was used freely.

Scene—Quarter-deck of H. M. S. Hardship.

Pat Murphy and Jock McLean had been breaking leave, and had been ordered to receive 10 strokes each of the "cat." When the time came for their punishment the captain, considering their previous good character, said that if they wished to wear anything but their boots, they must have them soled.

The Scotchman replied that he would like to have a strip of canvas on his back. The request was granted, and then Pat, on being asked what he would like, exclaimed, "Shure! sor, if it is all the same to you, I would like to have the Scotchman on my back."

LUXURIES AS NECESSITIES

Silk Hose Have Become a Matter of Course.

From the New York Evening Post.

The elaborate footgear that the present season has brought forth has created a demand for hosiery that is equally attractive. The stockings should, of course, match the tone of the slippers. They do not come in the regular stock, but have to be dyed and made up to match the weird shades of the current fashions.

The days have gone by when the Christmas gift stockings are wrapped in pink tissue paper and laid away in the top drawer, only to be brought out for special occasions. Every day in the state occasion now. If one may judge by the prevalence of silk hosiery. Fortunately, the manufacturers are making them up half silk, and with a lisle or cotton foot and garter top, thus lessening the cost, and tempering with good sense the temptation to buy silk stockings.

Hosiery of plain tones is used for street wear, and the openwork designs for evening. Embroidered hose, on which small and bright flowers appear, are an attractive that one is not surprised that they should lead in popularity for house wear.

The herring-bone openwork stripe is exceedingly smart for morning wear with pumps. They come in black, brown and white, are quite heavy, and have the advantage of outwearing two pairs of the lighter kind.

Heavy cream silk hose, hand-knitted on the loom in polka dots, are a popular accompaniment for white satin or white buckskin pumps. Such stockings come in brown, gray, purple and white.

Quaint French clocks are again fashionable. Some come single, while others there are four lines ending in the atrophied design.

An imported French novelty is the hand-tuned stocking, with a changeable effect, excellent for walking, skating or golf. They come in Oxford, old and black, dark red and black, green and black. While some of the changeable effects come in all of these are others of a heavy weave of silk and cashmere. For ice and for warmth they are recommended.

IS UNABLE TO CONFIRM REPORT THAT NEWS OF TITANIC WAS WITHHELD

NEW YORK, May 3.—Testimony taken today by Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan, chairman of the senate committee investigating the Titanic disaster, did not reveal any facts tending to confirm the report that news of the Titanic disaster, which the White Star line made public on Monday evening, April 15, had reached New York early that morning.

To determine this question was the principal object of the senator's visit here, and he had before him today in private hearing John Bottomly, vice president of the American Marconi company; E. J. Dunn, the New York merchant, who testified in Washington that he had been informed by the son of a Western Union operator that a message had been received in New York on Monday morning, telling of the Titanic's fate; and the operator himself, who returned to the city today. Mr. Smith said, after having been absent since Sunday night.

These two witnesses were disposed to be recalcitrant, the senator said, and their examination was unsatisfactory. He declared he would call the operator again, when he hoped to obtain more definite information.

Vice President Bottomly, according to his stenographic testimony, disclaimed all knowledge of any such news being received here at the time reported.

Received First News About 6 P. M.

"Do you know of your knowledge, or have you been informed by any person, by wire, wireless, cable, letter, word of mouth, or otherwise, that information regarding this disaster reached any office of your company up the White Star line on Monday, April 15, prior to 10 o'clock?" was the question Senator Smith put to him.

"No, I don't know of any such message," Mr. Bottomly replied, adding that the Marconi company received its first message of the sinking of the Titanic about 8 p. m.

The witness testified that he had made every effort to get news of the disaster from the Carpathia, and had sent instructions to all wireless stations asking them to furnish the company with all the news they could obtain. He denied he had in any way tried to influence Cuttani and Bridge, the wireless operators on the Carpathia, in regard to the sending and receiving of information until the vessel had passed quarantine, when, with Mr. Marconi's consent, he had given wireless permission to Brade to sell his story.

"The witness denied that operators of his company were instructed not to give information to any ship not fitted with Marconi wireless.

Could Not Turn Certain Bolt.

Senator Smith said that tomorrow he expected to take the testimony of a man "cognizant of the fact that members of the crew could not turn a certain bolt in one of the water-tight compartments, on which depended its efficiency."

"A full report of the inquiry will be made to congress," he said. "The investigation is completed. It will contain many recommendations. It will indicate many reforms—so many that I am not prepared to sketch even its salient features now."

Senator Smith said the report would not attempt to single out for prosecution anyone responsible for the Titanic disaster.

"I realize," he said, "that I am no marine expert. All that I know of the subject was taught me by the captain of the stricken Titanic—Captain Smith, who lost his life in the disaster—six years ago. At that time, when my son and I crossed the Atlantic, he explained to me the Titanic disaster."

Take Sworn Testimony of Woman.

Senator Smith announced he had taken the sworn testimony of Mrs. J. Stuart White of Briar Cliff, N. Y., who left the Titanic in lifeboat No. 5, the second or third boat which put out from the ship.

"Mrs. White said this boat contained 23 women and three men," said Senator Smith. "One of the men, she said, was a seaman, the other two said they never had handled an oar in their lives and knew nothing about rowing."

"Mrs. White swore these men were neither kind nor courteous; that they lighted pipes or cigarettes, notwithstanding that there was lightning material aboard, and that with this kind of men they were put out to sea, and told to row directly for a light."

She concluded this light was the light of a schooner mentioned by Captain Moore, and was about five or 10 miles away.

Senator Smith said he intended to examine two more witnesses.

to work under this order. The management then offered to permit the men thus proposed to be laid off, to report as usual for work daily, but not to work on the premises and to submit the question at issue to arbitration and in the event of a decision sustaining the position of the union to pay these men full wages from the time they were laid off up to the date of the decision of the arbitrators. The members of the union refused to work under this offer.

The management then notified the men that they continued refusal to work would constitute a strike, and that in so striking the union would be breaking the contract between the publishers association and the union. The members of the union continued to refuse to work and walked out of the office.

Under the circumstances the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers association now declares the contract between it and Chicago Newspaper Web Pressmen's union No. 7 broken by the union and therefore terminated. The press rooms of all the members of Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers association will therefore hereafter be conducted without recognition of the jurisdiction of the Chicago Newspaper Web Pressmen's union No. 7.

It is the purpose not to disturb the working conditions and wages of the former contract and to this end the continued cooperation of all employees without discrimination is invited.

on the desire of the court to disregard precedents in handing down their decisions. He showed how they rule opposite to a former ruling.

"If we get the recall," he concluded, "no decisions will be reversed unless injustice has been done."

Judge Kerr talked in favor of the recall of judges in the discussion on that subject. He first took up the various direct legislation issues, showing how some of them the initiative and referendum, for instance, have found great favor with the people, and how they have been adopted. He pointed out how the initiative and referendum carried Colorado by a vote of about three to one, and El Paso county by about two and one-half to one, and said the recall is vastly more popular than the initiative and referendum.

The Federal Courts.

"The trouble lies in the federal courts," said Judge Kerr. "The supreme court of the United States really rules the country. It is not subject to the laws of the nation and it is not controlled by the people—it is appointed by the political forces, who in turn are controlled by the financial interests."

"Judges should be elected and not appointed. They should be put in office by the people instead of the financial interests, and they should be subject to recall. In their decisions they have turned the power of the government to the rich as against the poor in as many as a half dozen cases. These decisions have made the country an oligarchy instead of a democracy or a republic."

Judge Kerr cited conditions in other countries, where, he said, the legislative power is in the legislative body alone, and not in a court, as here. He then followed a bill from its starting place, the house of representatives, through the senate and past the president until it finally reaches the supreme court. Here it depended on one judge, he said, and he asked the court to recall.

Judge Kerr talked for some time on the power of the Socialists, and said it is due to conditions that have arisen in the country. He closed his address by citing numerous cases that have been decided by the supreme court, which should have been reversed, and which would have been if the recall were in effect.

Attorney Haines' Contention.

Attorney Haines' paper was a strong protest against the recall of judges and judicial decisions. He characterized as "one of the hoary lies enshrined in the Declaration of Independence the statement that all men are born free and equal." "Of a truth," he said, "no man is born free, and no two men are born equal." He attacked vigorously the truth of what he declared to be a conviction among the people that all men are equally able and fit to do all things. He said:

"A ditch digger is a man and a brother, but you do not for that reason ask him to operate an X-Ray machine or make a qualitative or quantitative chemical analysis or remove your vermiform appendix or do delicate and important or technical work which might tax the best brains and training."

As to the proposition of recall, he asked:

"In practice, who is to formulate the question for the voters? By what authority and under what safeguards? When it is submitted to the people will they vote for it? Possibly 10 per cent or 20 per cent will—possibly not."

That is government of the people, by the people, for the people."

Toward the close he said:

"Instead of shortening and rendering uncertain the terms of judges, lengthen them and render them certain. Instead of more politics to corrupt judges, infirmities and shortcomings, take judgements wisely out of partisan politics."

Put only the ablest men in the profession on the bench. Give them more power instead of less than they now possess. Pay them adequately.

"Thus I believe most of our present difficulties and delays and miscarriages of justice will be removed."

Cites English Courts.

Attorney Haines' paper concluded by citing that the English courts, now models of directness, effectiveness and rapidity in the disposition of business, were not changed from their disreputable state during Queen Elizabeth's time, by recall of judges or judicial decisions, or by invoking the popular vote to cure their ills.

"The work of transformation was accomplished," he said, "as it must be accomplished if at all, by the judges and lawyers themselves, who know the evils and knew how to find the remedies."

John L. Bennett talked for the recall of judicial decisions in that discussion. He first explained the recall of decisions, and then spoke for the most part on specific instances of the supreme courts. One especially of local interest was the eight-hour law passed by the legislature, which affects all laborers in mines and smelters and other dangerous occupations. The supreme court held the law unconstitutional because there were several other statutes regarding the rights of the people, and because persons should not be deprived of their privileges, also because assemblies should not pass local laws.

"The only way to pass the law was to amend the constitution," said Attorney Bennett. "But there was no section in the constitution to amend."

Therefore, they wrote in the constitution such a section. The law went into effect, and the decision of the court was reversed. The same recall should apply to the supreme court of the United States. If it had been in effect only one decision would have been affected in the last decade."

The Twentieth Amendment.

The twentieth amendment in this state was discussed at length by Mr. Bennett. This amendment deals with local issues, and Mr. Bennett said the recall of judicial decisions should be in effect here so the people who made the law could tell what they meant by it. "Nobody else can," he said.

"In other words," concluded Mr. Bennett, "the recall of judicial decisions means that the people will tell the courts what they meant when they passed a law, if it is necessary. The judges would be glad of it in many cases."

Willis L. Strachan closed the discussion by talking on some of the other speakers. He said that there is no way of knowing whether the other speakers had depicted the true state of affairs, and even if they had, that the recall would benefit it.

"The argument that the recall appeals to the people is no reason for its being a good thing," said Mr. Strachan. "Of course, if you flatter the people they will follow you, and that is what will be done in this case."

He asked who would appoint the new judges if the present ones were recalled, since there was no way of knowing that the new ones would be any better than the old ones. Also, if a judge is elected and then recalled, how would the people know who is competent to elect to fill the position of the recalled judge?

He concluded by saying that the cases that had been pointed out are exceptional, and that it would be foolhardy to change the entire judicial condition simply to deal with a few exceptions.

BIG RAILWAY MORTGAGE

DETROIT, May 3.—At the annual meeting here today of the stockholders of the Michigan Central railroad, a new Canadian Southern mortgage for a total issue of $40,000,000 to run for 30 years was authorized.

At the annual election the board of directors was re-elected.

posted in its press room the announcement that the contract between those papers and the Chicago Newspaper Web Pressmen's union No. 7, broken by the union and therefore terminated, expired. The management elected to come under the provisions of the contract between the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers association, of which the Chicago Examiner and the Chicago American are members and the pressmen's union, and would assume all the obligations and exercise all the rights of all members of the Chicago local under the contract, adding that the management would refer to arbitration as provided in the contract any difference that might arise.

After the announcement had been read the men, acting under the order of the president of the union, resumed work without protest and thus acknowledged their acceptance of the contract. On May 1 the management announced that it would exercise its right under the contract to determine the number of men employed on each press and ordered each to be manned with the same number of men as other members of the Chicago local employ on presses of similar size and product.

The members of the union refused

The Dred Scott Case.

"Again, decisions have been recalled in the history of this country. Take the Dred Scott case—for instance. After a decision was rendered in that case, the entire nation uprose in disapproval, with the result that the decision was changed."

In closing, Governor Thomas talked

SPECIAL PROGRAM BY THE SOCIALISTS SUNDAY

A special program will be given Sunday night at the Socialist meeting in carpenter's hall. Mrs. Mary L. Geffs of Denver who is on her way to the Social National convention in Indianapolis, will give an address.

An International Labor day program will be given, consisting of violin and piano music, songs and readings. Among those who will take part are: Lloyd Shaw, of Colorado college; Miss R. Johnson, Dan Story, Master Sleasinger, G. A. Banning and Clyde Ross, of the Colorado college School of Music. The public is invited.

DIRECT LEGISLATION LEAGUE MEETS TONIGHT

There will be an important meeting of the Direct Legislation League tonight at the Y. M. C. A. Plans for the circulation of the petitions in the interests of the initiative measures, which will be voted on this fall, will be discussed. All members and any others of Colorado Springs, Colorado City or Manitou, who are interested, are earnestly requested to be present.

Longer Life for the Broom

A little intelligent care will make quite a noticeable difference in the work a broom will do and the length of time it will wear. A broom that is used every day should be washed once a week and this is most easily done by preparing a bucketful of suds made by dissolving a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder in hot water, dip the broom up and down in these suds until the bristles are cleaned and bright; then rinse and hang up to dry. If a new broom is dipped in hot suds before used, the bristles will be toughened and will not break so easily. Always hang the broom up after it is used.

FASHION AND CHARITY - DON'T STOP SHOOTING OF BIRDS IN PALMER PARK

AT KIRNESS MAY 10

Fashion and charity will join hands in the kirness to be given at the new Burns theatre Friday evening, May 10, and the affair will be one of the prettiest ever seen in this city. The object of the kirness is a most worthy one—that of raising money to help maintain many dependent and helpless children for the next 12 months at the dependent children's ward in Bethel Hospital. A small number of society ladies of this city, who spend hundreds of dollars of their own private funds to the care of helpless infancy and devote much time and energy to the work, have taken on themselves the burden of maintaining this child hospital in conjunction with the Visting House. A. R. H. and out money will aid them in their charitable effort. There are a score or more of dependent children in the ward at present, and the number varies, sometimes reaching double the present figures.

While the kirness is strictly in aid of charity, as represented in the dependent infants, will be worth more than the price of admission on its own merits as an amusement offering. Last year hundreds of people who saw it were delighted with the program, held in the Antlers ballroom, but the arrangements this year promise to go far outdo the last one that there can be hardly any comparison. The magnificent stage settings offered by the Burns theatre permit a much more elaborate performance, and the costumes will be in keeping with the rich and artistic stage scenery. Almost double the number of dances will be presented, and more than double the number of performers will be seen. Young ladies in their teens and little misses in their childhood will be seen in the most fairylike series of dances ever presented in this city. Little boys also have their part in the work of giving a pleasing program, and the music which will be donated by Pink's orchestra, will be all that can be desired.

The dancing program is under the direct charge of Mrs. Frank Smith, who has been responsible for several successful performances of this character, but never anything on so elaborate a scale as that of the kirness this season.

HANDSOME HOME TO BE ERECTED BY A. G. SHARP

What is to be one of the finest residences in Colorado Springs will soon be constructed on the southwest corner of North Cascade avenue and Camarillo street by A. G. Sharp, president of the Exchange National Bank. The site is 200 by 180 feet, and has been owned by Mr. Sharp for a number of years. The house, the plans for which have been prepared by Architect N. van den Arend, will be a thoroughly modern 11-room home, three stories high and constructed entirely of brick, stone and terra cotta, with a tile roof. Porches will extend the entire length of the south and west sides on both the first and second stories, the upper porch being supported by massive terra cotta columns and pillars. A large porte cochere of exceptional beauty will be constructed on the east side of the house.

In the rear will be a large, two-story garage built on the same style as the house, and the heating plant will be in the basement of the garage. Contractors Dannevik & Currie of this city will do the construction work, and the plumbing contract has been let to the J. C. St. John Plumbing company.

To Install Water and Sewer System Shortly

Bids are being received by the Stratton estate for a water and sewer system to be put in on property just east of Stratton park. The work will cost about $7,000. When completed the system will furnish water and sewer connections for about 100 cottages that are now built on the property, and will be adequate to care for many more. The plans call for a sewer about 5,000 feet long and water mains approximately the same length. It is expected that the work will be completed early this summer, although the contract has not been awarded.

SYNOD IN SESSION

The tenth annual convention of the Rocky Mountain synod of the English Lutheran church opened at the church in this city yesterday afternoon. Miss A. A. Sanford, a missionary from India, and the Rev. J. W. Pinkbner made addresses. The program last night included an address by the Rev. R. B. Wolf and a vocal solo by Mrs. H. H. Seldomridge. The program for today follows:

Today.
Devotional. Mrs. A. G. Lindburg.
Roll call, minutes.
Greetings.
Paper, "Is It Nothing to You?" Miss Clara Prahl, Laramie.
Vocal solo, Mrs. C. Pederson.
Business.

Reports of committees.
Invitations for next convention.
Election of officers.
Open parliament, Mrs. J. H. Utesch, Canon City.
General fund, life memberships. Synodical fee.
Minutes for approval.
Final adjournment.
Luncheon at the church.

REVIVALS BEING HELD

Special evangelistic meetings are in progress at the Pentecostal church of the Nazarene, corner of Spruce and Bijou streets, and will continue each evening until Sunday. The Rev. H. F. Reynolds of Oklahoma City, general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, is in charge. The public is cordially invited.

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and luster if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sarsaparilla and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sarsaparilla has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being the efficient for treatment of dandruff and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sarsaparilla and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

Prizes of $2,000 for Best College Essays

The students of Colorado college are to have another opportunity to compete for prizes amounting to $2,000. The announcement comes from Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, chairman of the committee in charge of the contest, that prizes will again be offered next year by Hart, Schaffner & Marx.

Students are given this early announcement so that they may work on papers during the summer vacation. These prizes have been offered for the last seven years. Following is the list of colleges from which winning essays have come:

Washington and Lee college leads with four prizes and one honorable mention; Northwestern university, University of Chicago, and Oberlin, each three prizes; Cornell, one prize and one honorable mention; Swarthmore, an honorable mention, and each of the following colleges one prize: Michigan, Wisconsin, Bowdoin, Hanford, Illinois; Queen's university, Kingston, Canada; Harvard, Wesleyan, Branch Normal, Pine Bluff, Arkansas; Yale, Missouri, Union College of Law.

Some of the subjects suggested are: Agricultural education; a lumber policy for the United States; what form of education should be advised for the elevation of wage earners from a lower to a higher industrial status in the United States; the effect of the industrial awakening of Asia upon the economic development of the west.

Further information may be had from Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin at the University of Chicago, who is chairman of the committee of awards.

WILL ABIDE BY DECISION OF THE PARK COMMISSION

A meeting of the park commission had been set for next Tuesday, to discuss the matter of permitting automobiles to go up South Cheyenne canon. Recently a number of auto drivers asked permission of the park commission to run their machines up the canon to the toll gate. In view of this, it is understood the Seven Falls company allowed the machines to proceed up the canon from the toll gate to the falls in order to complete the trip. It is contended that autos interfere with people riding in carriages or on horseback, and it is proposed at Tuesday's meeting of the commission to decide the issue. A representative of the Seven Falls company said last night that the company is not in any controversy with the park commission, but is willing to have the question decided by the commission. Up to this time automobiles have not been permitted in South Cheyenne canon.

ANOTHER BENEFIT FROM VISIT ADVERTISING MEN

The latest benefit received from the visit of the railroad advertising men, who were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce last fall, is a little booklet just issued by the Rock Island railroad, entitled, "Little Journeys in Colorado." The paper is of a quality far above the average, and 22 half-tone illustrations are used, 16 of which are of scenes in the Pikes Peak region. The frontispiece is an excellent illustration of Pikes Peak, taken north of the city. The booklet contains a brief description of Colorado scenery in general, and then gives three itineraries, two of which start from this city and the other from Denver. The two from this city are for 20 and six-day trips, while the one from Denver is for 12 days.

Gets License a Year and a Day After His Divorce

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Cutting Pettigrell and Roberta Pearl Reams. Pettigrell is connected with the water department and lives in Colorado Springs for many years. Daisy O. Pettigrell, his divorcee, was divorced from him May 1, 1911, in the district court on the ground of cruelty. They were married in Pueblo, March 13, 1907.

TIME LIMIT EXTENDED TO MAY 10 ON DOG LICENSES

Chief of Police Burno and other city officials decided yesterday to extend the time limit of paying dog taxes to May 10. Owners of dogs who have not paid the license by that date will be taken into police court, where they will be fined, and in addition, required to pay the tax due.

RANCH HOUSE DESTROYED

The ranch house of M. J. Bender, 20 miles north of this city, burned to the ground early Wednesday morning. The family had time only to save a few articles of wearing apparel. It is thought that the fire started from a defective flue. The total damage was about $4,300.

PERT HERE; INSPECTING CITY'S NEW WATER MAINS

Hiram Phillips and Water Superintendent McReynolds are going over the city's new water mains to see if everything is in readiness for high pressure tests that will be made within the next few days. Mr. Phillips is a hydraulic expert from St. Louis, who was called here several months ago to suggest a remedy for low water pressure in certain sections in the eastern and southern parts of the city.

No notification will be given of the time when the high pressure of from 125 to 175 pounds will be turned into the mains, and unless the extra strain causes breaks or blowouts, but few will know of the tests.

The high pressure will be turned on only in times of necessity, as in case of a serious fire, etc. The normal pressure will be about 65 to 80 pounds.

DANCE AT STRATTON PAVILION TONIGHT

Director Fred G. Fink has arranged a pleasing program of popular music for the regular dance at Stratton park pavilion this evening, as follows:

Waltz—"Life's Enjoyment."
Two-step—"Toda! Man!"
Waltz—"Esamille."
Two-step—"That Hoochie Baby."
Waltz—"Love and Spring."
Two-step—"Oh! You Beautiful Doll!"
Waltz—"That's What I Call a Good Time."
Two-step—"They Gotta Quit Kickin' My Dime Around."
Waltz—"The Girl in the Train."
Two-step—"Ragtime Violin."

MINISTER TALKS ON THE WAR WITH SPAIN

The Rev. G. W. McCreery of Pueblo, formerly of this city, lectured last night at St. Paul's Methodist church. He was a member of Company M, First Colorado volunteers, in the Spanish-American war, and last night spoke his personal experiences during the war. He gave many details of an original nature, concerning battles around Manila. A large number of views were shown. The old soldiers were the guests of the evening at the lecture.

With Pitchers Gregg, Mitchell and George, all left-handers, the Cleveland Naps are well fixed in the way of port-siders this season.

about those who try

will you try using only a dessert spoonful of Derr's freshly roasted coffee in place of the usual tablespoonful of other coffees?

we know of so many who have tried this experiment and comparison and are getting the very best results.

—some—as in the case of several large restaurants and hotels—are saving as high as 25 per cent on their coffee.

—this means that they use 25 per cent less coffee in the making and still get the elegant rich flavor which the fresh dry coffee roasts.

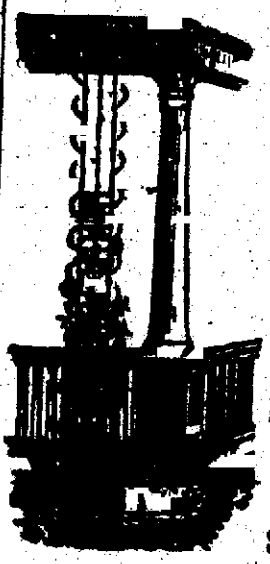

—the flavor the guests praise so highly.

COURT TO DETERMINE INSURANCE BENEFICIARY

A contest to determine the beneficiary of a $2,000 insurance policy held by Samuel Goad, at the time of his death, was commenced before a jury in the district court yesterday. It is probable that the case will be completed this afternoon.

According to testimony thus far offered in the trial, Goad took out the insurance policy in 1900, naming his wife, Mary, as beneficiary. In 1910, it is alleged, the two disagreed, and Goad changed the policy so that his three children, Mrs. Hattie Mason and Charles and Clarence Goad, would receive the insurance money at his death.

Another change was made in September, 1910, it is claimed, when Goad's sister, Mrs. Ella Hall, was named as the beneficiary. Goad's children are now suing to determine who shall receive the money.

Plaintiffs are seeking to show by witnesses who were acquainted with Goad during his life that he was not in his right mind when the policy was last changed. Attorney Orr and Mason, representing the plaintiffs, placed George F. Dayton on the stand yesterday afternoon. His testimony tended to show that Goad was mentally deficient for some time before his death. Dayton said he had known Goad for 10 years; that in 1909 he was erratic and queer, and that in 1910, witness said, "I would say that he was insane."

In cross-examination, Attorney Stricker of counsel for the defense tried to show that Dayton was interested in the case through alleged friendship with the law firm representing the plaintiff. Witness admitted that he had been employed on a number of cases, but denied that he had worked under an assumed name. Further questioning along this line was objected to by Attorney Orr and sustained by the court.

GERM LADEN DUST CAUSES CATARRH

Catarrh, which is bad enough in itself, often results in loss of taste, smell and hearing, and leads to serious throat and lung troubles if not promptly checked. The seat of catarrh is usually in the back of the nose, and its natural course is downward into the throat and thence to the lungs.

Don't take any chances. If you have any symptoms of catarrh—stuffed feeling in the head, nasty discharge from the nose, sore throat, or dry, hacking cough, get a fifty-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and begin the treatment at once.

This remedy is not a "burning" or "drying up" process. It is simply a cleansing, soothing, and healing balm taken through the nostrils back into the head and throat where it instantly reaches the seat of the trouble. That's the only way to effectually and permanently cure catarrh.

Catarrh makes you offensive to yourself and friends. Start using Ely's Cream Balm today, and in a short time you will be permanently cured of this nasty, disgusting disease. Special agent, The Robinson Drug Co.

MISS ELSIE ELRICK WINS BRYN MAWR SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Elsie May Elrick, daughter of James W. Elrick, 1502 Manitou boulevard, has been awarded a scholarship at Bryn Mawr college, where she is taking a postgraduate course. She is a graduate of Colorado college, class of 1910 and of the Colorado Springs High school. While in the college here she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa society and received many scholarship honors.

Colorado City DEPARTMENT

H. S. FRESHMEN WIN

With the hoisting of the pink and green banner of the Colorado City High school freshmen on the flag pole of the school building, yesterday, the battle between the classes reached a climax. Miss Louise Stoelting, the principal, after trying to quell the young rioters, said she "guessed it came as regularly as spring fever, and had to be fought out."

A party of Colorado City young people enjoyed a picnic in Williams canon Wednesday night, followed by a visit to the Cave of the Winds. Miss Stoelting was the chaperone, and the party included the following: Misses Anna Stuntz, Ida Brown, Mabel Cook, Lily Naught, Florence Hemenway, B. Landreth, Iva Whilbe, Mabel Shafer, Florence Eaton, Lola Hollister, K. Kemsey, and Messrs. Landreth, Brown, McKnight, Phillips, McAlle, Ricker, Shantz, Daw, Wickes, Hovee, Altmick and Pelling.

CHURCH HOLDS ELECTION

The church committee of the Church of the Good Shepherd and delegates to the annual council were elected at a recent meeting of the parishioners. The following were unanimously elected to the bishop's committee: Fred Corporan, church warden and treasurer; Clarion Taylor, people's warden; O. L. Wigger, secretary; C. D. Taylor, Duncan Lamont and Joseph Edel, seniors. George Lawrence and Fred Corporan were elected delegates to the annual council in Denver, in June.

The Rev. V. O. Penley, thanked the members of the congregation and the committee for their work, and a special vote of thanks was extended to the Women's guild. Bishop Olmstead will visit the church Sunday evening to conduct services and ratify the elections.

FIREMEN AND HOSTLERS DEMANDING MORE WAGES

NEW YORK, May 2.—The locomotive firemen and hostlers employed on the railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers today submitted to the conference committee of railroad managers a schedule of rates for pay which calls for general increases in all classes of service.

J. C. Stuart, chairman of the conference committee of managers, received the official notification of the demand for the new wage scale from W. S. Carter of Peoria, Ill., president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Mr. Stuart replied to Mr. Carter that the committee of managers would be called together as soon as possible.

It was said by the railroad managers that the railroads involved had about 14,000 locomotives and that a hasty examination of the new wage scale showed that an additional expense to the railroads of from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually would be caused if the demands were granted.

One of the demands is that on coal burning locomotives in freight service, a fireman and an assistant fireman shall be employed. This would mean the employment of 14,000 additional men annually.

CUTICURA OINTMENT HEALED BAD SORE

Scraped Flesh Off Bone Below Knee. Suffered So She Couldn't Sleep. Also Says: "I Believe Cuticura Soap is the Best Soap Made."

805 Lafayette St., Wichita, Kan. — "Some time ago I was coming up some steps when the board cracked under me like an egg shell, and my right limb went through to the knee, and I scraped the flesh off the bone just inside and below the knee. I neglected it for a day or two, then it began to hurt and swell. I put balm on it to draw out the poison, but when I had used it a week, it hurt so badly that I changed to Cuticura Ointment. It made it smart and burn so badly that I could not use it any more, and that was the fourth week after I was hurt.

"Then I began to use Cuticura Ointment for the sore. It itched during the night, and began healing right away. It was healing so before Cuticura Ointment healed it, and I suffered so I couldn't sleep from two days after I fell until I began using Cuticura Ointment.

"Cuticura Soap is the best soap I ever saw. I have used all kinds of soap for washing my face, and always it would leave my face smarting. I had to keep looking in the mirror, so I began to use Cuticura Soap. I used it at last in Cuticura Soap and it will clean my face and leave no smarting, and I do not have to use any lotion or anything else to soothe it. I believe Cuticura Soap is the best soap made."

Mrs. C. H. Elrick, May 8, 1911. Cuticura Soap (30c) and Cuticura Ointment (30c) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. A 25-cent sample of each mailed free with 25c. Book on skin and scalp treatment. Address: "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-foot who should use Cuticura Soap during their trip.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR MAJOR BUTT AT AUGUSTA

President Taft, Who Spoke, Visibly Affected by Tributes Paid to His Late Aide

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 2.—President Taft and Augusta paid tribute today to Maj. Archibald Butt, the president's personal aide, who was lost in the wreck of the Titanic. Augusta was the last home for several hours.

business practically was suspended, while memorial services were conducted in a theater. Flags were at half mast on most of the public buildings, and thousands of persons crowded around the theater anxious to hear President Taft speak.

The president was visibly affected by the tributes paid Major Butt. There were tears in his eyes as he called up memories of the man who was his aide ever since he entered the White house. Mr. Taft made only a short address but he came near breaking down twice.

"Never did I know how much he was to me until he was dead," said the president. "Lacking nothing of self-respect and giving up nothing of his own to himself, he conducted himself with a singleness of purpose and to the happiness and comfort of the president who was his chief. To many fine qualities he added loyalty, and when he became one of my family he was as a son or a brother."

Mr. Taft told how he met Major Butt first in the Philippines and later as aide to President Roosevelt. He dwelt on Major Butt's devotion to Mr. Roosevelt and to himself.

"It has always seemed to me," said the president, "that Archie never married because he loved his mother so. The greatest sorrow of his life was when she left him."

Mr. Taft concluded with a word

ISMAI SAILS FOR ENGLAND

NEW YORK, May 2.—J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the International Mercantile marine, sailed for his home in England today on the White Star liner Adriatic. Mr. Ismay said he was worn out and there was nothing to add to his testimony regarding the Titanic disaster.

"I have given the senate committee all the information at my command," said Mr. Ismay. "There is certainly nothing more to say. I have no ill-feeling against the American public, and I think the senate investigation was thorough. I am feeling very tired and wish to retire."

Before leaving his hotel with Vice President C. A. S. Franklin, Mr. Ismay conferred with J. P. Morgan, Jr., together with several directors of the company.

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. But every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a "cure" that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will provide a comfort and benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS WILL REACH HERE TODAY

By tonight practically all the high school athletes, who will compete in the annual high school day games at the Washburn field, tomorrow, will be in Colorado Springs. Entries have been received from 25 schools, and the meet promises to be the greatest of its kind in the history of intercollegiate athletics in Colorado.

Preliminaries will be held tomorrow morning at Washburn field, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock, at which time contestants must be on hand. Coach Rothgeb of Colorado college will have charge of the day's program, which is assurance that the various events will be run off promptly and without unnecessary delay. Programs will be furnished all contestants upon their arrival in Colorado Springs tonight, and there will be no excuses accepted from those who are not on hand at the time stipulated for the events in which they are entered.

Washburn field, easily the best and fastest athletic field in the state, has been put in tip-top condition for tomorrow's big event. The finishing touches will be put on the field today and tomorrow morning by a squad of college men. New state records in a number of events are looked for tomorrow afternoon.

The array of silver cups which will go to the winners of first, second and third places in each event, is one of the finest ever offered here, and all are well worth striving for.

Those in charge of the meet yesterday announced the day's program as follows:

TERRORS DEFEATED CENTRAIS, 10 TO 8

By IRVIN BRUCE
Special to The Gazette.

PUEBLO, May 2.—The Terrors advanced a step nearer the championship this afternoon, when they defeated the crack Pueblo Central team at Seles park, by the score of 10 to 8.

The game was featured by the hard hitting of the Terrors and their reckless base running. The Terrors landed on the benders of McGraw, the much touted Pueblo star pitcher, for 13 hits.

Evans pitched one of the best games of the season, keeping his hits well scattered except in the third inning, when the Smoky City team bunched three hits, which, coupled with a pair of errors, gave Central four runs.

Flower opened the fray for the Terrors with a single over second. Evans doubled to left and both runners were scored by Jacob's hit over short. Central did not score in their half.

The Terrors went out in one-two-three order in the second, as did the Sunville team. In the third round, McGraw held the Terrors rimpus. Three hits, with the aid of two errors, gave Central four runs. The Terrors came right back at them in their half, and hammered McGraw all over the field. This batting bee gave the Terrors seven runs, a lead which Central was not able to overcome. It did not make any difference to the Springs team what the Pueblo pitcher had on the ball, for they were hitting it on the nose every time.

Central got three more in the last of the fourth, and from this time Evans had them at his mercy. Pueblo could only touch him for an occasional hit, and when they did hit the ball it went into the hands of the outfielders. The Terror outfield was working in great shape and pulled down every ball that came their way.

Schnelder, the star Terror second sacker, was injured when Kuhn collided with him in the fifth inning, tearing the bandage off of his injured hand and severely spiking him. This injury put him out of the game, and Davis took his place at second.

The Terrors showed a marked improvement in stick work, hitting everything the Pueblo pitcher had to offer.

TIGERS AND U. C. TODAY

The old rivals, Colorado college and Boulder, will settle their baseball differences at Washburn field this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in what should be the best collegiate game here this season.

Both teams are playing fast ball and it is expected that the game will be a high scoring one. (That quality organization, known as the Faculty Athletic conference, decided some time ago that there should be no championship in its halliwack, so today's game is for glory only.)

However the rivalry between Boulder and Colorado college is keen enough to guarantee a war. (It is this afternoon, and in addition to this both teams realize that the loser has a mighty slim chance at the imaginary conference title.)

LaVington, for Boulder, and Richards for Colorado college are probably the best pitchers in college ranks this season and they should put up a battle royal today. Captain Hughes, who was declared ineligible just before the Denver game last week, probably will be in the game today.

The Colorado batting order: Griffin, St. Kemp, Id. Rosenblom, Jr. Gates, cf. Bailey, cf. Hamberger, 3b. Briggs, cf. Bond, cf. LeVington, cf. Garland.

The Tiger batting order has not been announced. The lineup probably will be as follows: Richards, p. Kramer, cf. Jackson, cf. Wall, 1b. Madson, 3b. McLaughlin or Jackson, 2b. Reynolds, 2b. Hughes, Wall, Moberg, Thornell, 2b. outfield.

Morris Tries Fight Game Again Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—That Carl Morris really intends to begin his fight for the heavyweight championship of the world all over again by starting at the bottom of the ladder is shown by the fact that he is married to meet Luther McCarty in a 10-round go at Springfield, Mo., tomorrow, under the auspices of the Springfield Athletic club.

Although a youngster, McCarty weighs 215 pounds, and is considered a conner. This fight, it is announced, will be the first of Morris' second attempt at the championship, and from Springfield he is to go to New York to get another match with Jim Stewart, who defeated him on March 20. Then he wants to meet Al Palmer. It is Morris' hope now that he will be in a position to challenge the winner of the Flynn-Johnson fight by the time that mill is staged.

Another announcement regarding Morris is that Bob Fitzsimmons, former heavyweight champion, is anxious to secure the management and training of Morris. In a statement recently issued Fitzsimmons said that he could take him on in three months to put Carl Morris in shape to get Jack Johnson's "goat."

ROGER MAY BUY BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—Confirmation of rumors that Roger Bresnahan, owner and manager of the St. Louis Nationals, was trying to become owner of the club came unexpectedly this afternoon when Mrs. Helen Hathaway Britton, widow of the late John Britton, testified in Judge Grimm's court that Bresnahan had offered her $500,000 for the club and for the park.

Mrs. Britton was on the stand in her suit to prevent E. A. Steininger, president of the club and administrator of the estate of Mr. Stanley Robinson, from voting the stock of Mrs. Britton and her mother, at meetings of the club.

Papke Bests Cop by K. O. in Second

NEW YORK, May 2.—Billy Papke of Kenosha, Ill., former middleweight champion, practically knocked out Billy Leitch, a former New York policeman, in the second round of what was scheduled to be a 10-round bout at the National Sporting club, here tonight. It was Leitch's first fight as a professional. Both men weighed in at 163½ pounds.

The moment the men squared off, Papke rushed Leitch to his own corner and drove a hard right swing to the head. Leitch fell to one knee. He got up, but Papke was all over him, and, shortly before the bell again, floored the former policeman with a right swing.

Leitch was groggy when the second round started, and after he had been knocked down four times, his seconds threw up the sponge.

TOPEKA COMING IN JUNE TO PLAY 2002

According to word received yesterday from Alderman Loughlin, the Topeka Western league team will come here to play the 2002 the afternoon of June 17. The teams have met twice before and each has one victory to its credit. Other Western league clubs will be brought here during the summer to meet those 2002 in mortal combat.

INDOOR BASEBALL AT THE BOYS CLUB

An indoor baseball game will be played tonight at the Boys club between the Columbia school and the Boys club for the championship of the school league. The game will begin at 7 o'clock.

The Girls indoor baseball team of the Lowell school will play the girls team of the Steele school next Friday night at the Boys club. This is an introductory feature in the school athletics of the city. It is probable that a girls baseball league will be organized next fall.

AEROPLANE RACES OVER MIDDLE WESTERN STATES

CHICAGO, May 2.—A tentative routing of the American Grand Circuit aeroplane race through the middle west in control of the Aero club of America and the Aero club of Illinois, was announced today. It shows a circuit of 1,800 miles.

As now scheduled the aeroplanes will go from Chicago to Cedar Rapids, Ia. to Des Moines, Ia. to Omaha, to Lincoln, to St. Joseph, Mo., to Kansas City, to Jefferson City, to St. Louis, to Indianapolis, to Cincinnati, to Columbus, to Cleveland, to Toledo, to Detroit, to Chicago.

A possibility is a finish across the lower end of Lake Michigan, a distance of 60 miles over water.

NEW YORK TRACKS CLOSED THIS YEAR

NEW YORK, May 2.—The local race tracks will not open their gates this summer. That means no racing at the big race courses. Racing can be held at the tracks if the directors desire to hold meetings, for there is no law against the sport in this state. But under existing conditions the directors do not wish to hold meetings while the so-called directors' liability law is on the statute books. The only racing here this year will be confined to the "want and necessities" races.

In these words August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey club, set at rest the rumors that have been afloat of late regarding the racing situation. Ever since April 15, the day on which racing was legally started in this state, there have been reports that the Belmont park track, the Empire course and the Saratoga Racing association would hold short meetings.

"What about the future of the turf, Mr. Belmont—the chances of racing next season, for instance?" I didn't wish to discuss that subject," he replied. "In the first place, it is too far away; secondly, I haven't the slightest idea. Better wait for next year to arrive."

"How about Saratoga?" Will it have a racing meeting this season? There have been reports to that effect."

"I haven't the slightest idea what the Saratoga Racing association intends to do. Personally, I don't believe there will be racing at Saratoga, but I have no reason to answer yes or no to the question. But as far as the local tracks are concerned, the gates will remain closed."

FLYNN SAYS HE HAS THE PUNCH TO BEAT JOHNSON

By ED W. SMITH.
CHICAGO, May 2.—While Jack Johnson is in Australia, the time has come when the champion boxer has been improving each shining hour. I've had upward of a dozen battles, all of them hard ones, have developed a punch, and am now ready to begin the serious job of getting into perfect condition. And I'll win, too, don't lose sight of that prediction.

This was the gist of Jim Flynn's talk recently after he had finished his theatrical work at the Empire in this city.

It is all too apparent that Flynn is figuring more than a little on Johnson having gone back recently during the two years of idleness he has put in since his easy victory at El Paso, N. M., over Jim Jeffries.

And as Jim figures that Johnson has slipped physically so the figures in a reverse way that he himself has improved, especially in the matter of a punch. Also, Flynn is banking quite a little that his increase in weight, which is represented by good, solid flesh, will help him a whole lot against the taller and heavier opponent.

Flynn weighs now over 200 pounds. He probably will enter the ring with Johnson in Las Vegas scaling over 185 pounds—possibly 190.

According to those figures he will have only a matter of 10 or 12 pounds the worst of the poundage. Johnson weighed about 200 the day he beat Jeffries and says he will scale about the same for this match.

But it's the punch that Flynn likes to talk about most of all.

"Including in the lot my battle with Morris two years ago, I can't fight a man with knockout punch," he told a bunch of friends at his dressing.

"The Morris fight really was a knockout, although they let it go to a point far beyond the knockout stage. They simply cheated me out of a knockout. The knockout list also includes Al Kaufman, popularly known and widely acclaimed as the very best of the 'white hopes.' What I did to him in nine rounds was a great shame, although he stuck to me with Johnson and was never near a knockout in that battle."

Johnson has done absolutely nothing in two years in a fighting way. He trained a little for the proposed match in England, with Benardotte Wells and that let him up. And he never did much in the knockout line before that. He couldn't knock me out in that battle."

PENN CREW WORRIED OVER APPROACHING BOAT RACE

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—Coach Ellis Ward is straining every nerve to whip University of Pennsylvania crews into shape for the race with Annapolis, which is only a few days off. Penn's crew is composed of strong, well-trained men, and they look very promising in practice, but it will take the test of a race to determine their real speed. Annapolis has for years produced a scumbling block to big college crews. In these preliminary races Pennsylvania is not holding the Middle Atlantic. If the Red and Blue can beat Annapolis on May 4, and then clean up Columbia and Princeton for the "chills" cup, May 13, prospects of a Pennsylvania victory at Poughkeepsie, the first in a dozen years, will be bright.

Pennsylvania has this spring adopted the system already in vogue at so many colleges of having a graduate manager in charge of all athletics. Robinson Lea Perot, 23, college, a famous cricketer, has been chosen for the post and will have powers similar to those of Garfield at Harvard.

A custom inaugurated by the new athletic manager, which is proving pleasant for visiting teams, is that of flying the visitor's colors on the Franklin field baseball on the day they meet Pennsylvania. On hearing of the proposed custom the Harvard Athletic association presented a crimson bunting 20 by 30 feet for this purpose, while alumni of Yale, Princeton and Cornell have made similar presentations of their own water's colors.

Arrangements have been definitely concluded for the playing of an intercollegiate cricket tournament in Philadelphia during the week of June 15 to June 22. Cornell, Columbia, Harvard and Pennsylvania will represent the American colleges, while Toronto, and possibly McGill university, and Kingston Military college, will come down from Canada to try to win the T. A. Scott memorial cup given from American soil.

SPRINGS WIN AGAIN, 15--1

Special to The Gazette.

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 2.—After four days of rain the Colorado Springs Millionaires, the class aggregation that will represent that city in the Rocky Mountain State league, won the first of a three-game series with the Manhattan State league team here today by the one-sided score of 15 to 1.

The Millionaires made a total of 13 hits, many of them good for extra bases, and gave McDaniel errorless support. They played a winning game, despite the fact that they have had but little practice on their present training trip through Oklahoma and Kansas.

McDaniel and Scott composed the battery for Colorado Springs, while Manhattan tried rascals, Harg, Graham and Allen, none of whom were able to head off the heavy hitting of the visitors.

Manager Bidwell left here tonight for Colorado Springs to make arrangements for opening the Rocky Mountain league season there within the next few weeks. He said his team was shaping up in good style and that it will be near the top all the time during the championship season.

BILLIARD FANS EXPECT TO SEE GREAT CONTEST

NEW YORK, May 2.—Billiard fans in this city are looking forward to the match between Willie Hoppe and Harry Cline of Philadelphia for the world's championship at 142 ball line. On every side the opinion is expressed that it should prove one of the most spectacular contests in the history of the green cloth game. The style of Cline, which is dashing and at times sensational, is in great contrast to that of Hoppe, who of late has exhibited a tendency to be more than usually careful and calculating.

No date has yet been set for the contest, but in accordance with the rules governing challenges, it will have to be played within the next five weeks, and probably will be put on at the Hotel Astor ball room, where Calvin Demarest of Chicago fell before the prowess of the youthful cue wizard of New York two weeks ago. Demarest has declared that he will challenge the winner of the Hoppe-Cline match, and asserts his confidence that he can beat either of them.

CHAVEZ BESTS DIX

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 2.—Kid Dix of Brooklyn was no match for Bennie Chavez, the Trinidad bantamweight, in tonight's scheduled 20-round bout under the auspices of the New Mexico Athletic club, Chavez winning by a knockout in the third round. Chavez went after Dix from the tap of the gong in the first round, and Dix never had a chance. A right uppercut to the stomach finished Dix.

In the second bout of the evening, Al Smoulding, the Clayton blacksmith, knocked out Luis Gonzalez of Silver City in the third round. The bout was scheduled for 20 rounds.

THE CURFEW ORDINANCE

CHIEF BURN'S decision, to enforce the curfew law more rigidly than heretofore, will have the hearty indorsement of the public, and especially of parents. Until now there has been only a weak attempt to keep boys and girls off the streets after nine o'clock at night, and there are many cases of juvenile delinquency which can be directly traced to the bad influences to which young people are subjected in consequence of this neglect. It is hardly likely that the proper authorities have disregarded this law through fear of public opinion, for there is general agreement as to the wisdom of the measure, but the fact remains that somehow it has been almost a dead letter.

With dance halls, moving picture shows, band concerts and park attractions running full blast it is not an easy matter to keep young people off the streets at hours when they ought to be at home and in bed. But these very attractions may, and often do, open the pathway to temptation, and the best safeguard against it is the strict enforcement of the curfew law. The ultimate solution of the problem lies with parents, but unfortunately there is every evidence that relatively few of them fully realize their responsibility. More attention to character-building in the home would pay big dividends in good citizenship, and would materially lessen the work of the juvenile courts.

THE COST OF MILITARISM

LAST winter the Secretary of War made a carefully considered report to the President recommending the abolishment of most of the twenty-five army posts now maintained and the concentration of the troops in the remaining posts, which would be improved and enlarged. The object of this measure is to obtain greater efficiency and economy, and it is now being considered by Congress.

Army posts are expensive things to maintain, and the existence of so many is due to political manipulation rather than to necessity. Energetic congressional delegations, anxious to secure the disbursement of large sums of government money in their own states, have managed to get army posts established in place, where they are utterly useless. The effect is not merely the waste of millions of dollars annually, but a considerable reduction in efficiency. Germany, which has the largest army in the world, spends on its entire military establishment only about one-half more than the United States. Yet the German army, on a peace footing numbers 620,000 men as compared with 75,000 in the American army.

It is amazing how slowly the world comes to a realization of the costly folly of militarism. The United States spends 73 per cent of its entire revenues to pay the cost of past wars and to prepare for future wars, yet in comparison with Japan and the principal European powers we get off cheaply. In Europe, the cost of a military expenditure is so small as to be negligible. Almost the entire energies of each nation are devoted to maintaining enormous armies and navies. A bulletin on this subject which has just been issued by the Bureau of Education says:

War debt began with the Nineteenth century. Not until the establishment of constitutional government had nations any credit in the world of finance. The bond of a king was not too easily broken. Since 1800 the war debts of the nations have grown by leaps and bounds. That of Europe as a whole amounts to more than $25,000,000,000, bearing interest at the rate of $1,150,000,000 per year. All these "endless caravans of ciphers" represent sums which have never been paid, will never be paid, can never be paid, so long as the present system of national armament goes on. For practically the entire amounts now raised by taxation in civilized nations go into the support of armies and navies.

It is estimated that the total cost of the armies and navies of the world each year in time of peace is two and one-half billion dollars, which equals the total value of the wheat and corn crops of the United States. At the present rate of expenditure the four countries of Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States will spend in the next forty years, the life of one generation, for the support of armies and navies an amount sufficient to build twenty million houses at an average cost of twenty-five hundred dollars each. With six people to each one these would furnish homes for one hundred and twenty million people, which is more than the total present population of these four countries living in villages and on farms. It would be easy to fill a column with similar illustrations showing the beneficent uses which might be made of the prodigious sums now spent to keep up the insane rivalry for military supremacy. It is rapidly becoming a question of whether we shall have universal peace or universal ruin.

FROM OTHER PENS

Taft, upon ROOSEVELT.

From The Chicago Tribune.
The newspapers supporting the candidacy of President Taft have enjoyed especially the quotation of eulogies delivered by Col. Roosevelt upon Mr. Taft in the past. A reader of the New York Evening Post has been cruel enough to respond with the following quotations from Mr. Taft upon Mr. Roosevelt: "When the friction of the last few months shall be forgotten, when the mists of momentary irritation shall have disappeared, the greatness of Theodore Roosevelt as president and leader of men in one of the great moral movements of the country's history will become clear to every one, and he will take his place with Washington and Lincoln."

As the tribute of a judicial mind, as the judgment of a man thoroughly informed, considerate, free from passion, prejudice or exaggeration, this memorable declaration by the Post's candidate should temper even the fury and contempt into which Teddyphobia has cast that venerable contemporary.

NOT "THE LAST WORD"

From The New York Tribune.
Mr. Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, says that "the Titanic was the last word in shipbuilding," yet on a clear night in a calm sea she went down with two-thirds of all on board. She was the last word, yet she carried lifeboats enough for only one-third of her passengers and crew. She was the last word, yet when running swiftly at night through ice-infested seas she was unprovided with searchlights, which would have revealed the approach to danger in time to avoid it. She was the last word, yet a blow too light to awaken or to startle her passengers inflicted injuries which caused her speedy destruction. The Titanic was the last word in shipbuilding, but she was not the last. There will be others, spoken more figuratively and literally, and some of them most emphatic and effective of them will be uttered just because of the Titanic and her fate.

PLACING THE BLAME.

From The New York Evening Post.
As for the lifeboats—these expensive affairs that cost the large sum of $425 apiece—there were but twenty of them in addition to a few rafts. Only fourteen of these were large boats; two were smaller, and four of the collapsible type. These were all that the Board of Trade certificate called for, and for he it was the White Star line to spend $425 in providing one more than the law required. Its officials were aware that fully half of their own steamer Republic's passengers would have been lost had there been no rescuing Baltic at hand. They knew, too, that ships are sometimes sunk on their maiden voyages, for their own big freighter the Narvik was never heard of after leaving New York on her first return trip. This was so the excuse, the excuse as declared by the naval contractors, theory that the Titanic was "practically unsinkable" as not to think about this matter of lifeboats at all. The absurdity of this attempt to avoid the terrible guilt that is theirs is perfectly apparent if one but considers that the Majestic, Teutonic and other ships of the line, not pronounced the "last word in marine construction" are inadequately equipped—practically like practically every other liner, American or foreign that leaves this harbor.

MANY AGAINST ROOSEVELT.

From The Philadelphia North American.
One very impressive fact in the present contest is that a large number of important and powerful persons are unalterably opposed to Theodore Roosevelt. It is a fact which is worthy of attention. There must be a good reason for a unanimity of sentiment among influential men of their class.

John D. Rockefeller and his associates are against Roosevelt. "This in spite of the fact that under the Taft administration the Standard Oil company was compelled to dissolve. The insiders hear no hard feeling to Mr. Taft, however, because the dissolution added $500,000,000 or more to the value of the stock. Likewise the promoters of the American Tobacco company, another "dissolved" trust, are against Roosevelt.

The best trust men, against whom a Taft prosecution broke down, are against Roosevelt. Big bankers and Wall street advocates of the Aldrich plan to give that group control of the money and credit of the country are against Roosevelt. Sugar trust men, whose company cheated the government of millions by means of false scales, are against Roosevelt.

Officers and directors of virtually all the big corporations, those which habitually break the laws and those others which want no interference with their "vested rights" to strangle competition and raise prices, are against Roosevelt.

And hence a curious thing: Nearly every "big" law or bill against Roosevelt, a law, a law, of course, is a law which commands big fees, and since, by a coincidence, the big fees are paid by the corporations, these big lawyers who oppose Roosevelt are counsel for the corporations which also oppose him. So we find the lawyers who spend their days in telling corporations just how the constitution protects them in their operations in their leisure indulging warnings to the public against Roosevelt on behalf of the constitution.

Turning to the political field, there is like agreement among the leaders of thought. Ex-Speaker Cannon is emphatically, if not profanely, against Roosevelt.

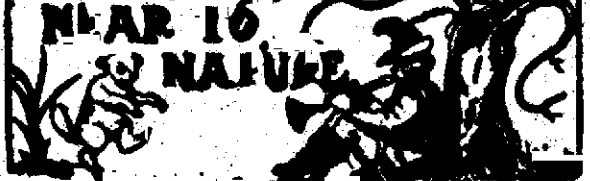

Senator Stanford and Senator Tamm are against Roosevelt.

Senator Penrose is against Roosevelt.

Senator Lorimer, who occupies his seat by reason of bribery, is against Roosevelt.

Senator Stephenson, whose "election" cost him $107,000 or thereabouts, is against Roosevelt.

It is an imposing list, an influential list. Are you against Roosevelt, too?

Praise, however exaggerated, is always nearer the truth than abuse.

At a party, when a woman is present who can really sing, before the guests get her to the piano, they are worn out with coaxing.

Many of the great heroes with whom we shame ourselves not only did not perform the great deeds we attribute to them, but there are some very good fellows who never existed.

I have noticed that every lecturer comes well recommended, and that some one says he has a "message" all should hear.

Aim high, but don't overshoot the enemy, who is constantly peppering you.

You should get no message from your brain or heart that is not somewhere near the truth.

You occasionally hear a burst of indignation greater than the facts warrant.

Vox Populi

By WALT MASON.

When I'm triumphing at the polls and my majority upholds, I know the people rule; the people, in whom victory lies, the high school people, who despise corruption's unscrupulous pool. When I have beaten father crowd, the people's voice is ringing loud, the voice that nobly urges I am their ruler and their sign, their voice is just the same as mine, my neck the same as theirs. But when I get it in the neck, and leave the polls a dismal wreck, vox populi is still the echoes of the money kings have formed conspiracies and rings to thwart the people's will, oh voters who for pure things yearn, say, will you never learn to vote for none but me? When I'm defeated Freedom grows, and Virtue weeps—er mouldy houses, Vice wins the victory. I am alone the People's Voice, and when I win the stars rejoice, and all the spheres are glad; but when I lose our sacred Vox is like a ship cast on the rocks, and righteousness is sad.

The Happiness of Service

By RUTH CAMERON.

"So long as we love, we serve; so long as we are loved by others, I would almost say that we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend."—Stevenson.

Once upon a time there was a young woman who wished she were not needed so much. "I wish I were free," she said, "to follow my own will. If my father and mother did not feel they would be too lonesome without me, and my little sister did not need my financial help, and my married sister did not depend on me so much, I think I should go far away and seek my fortune. Oh, dear, I do love my people very dearly, but sometimes I wish I were not needed quite so much."

I wonder if there was ever a man or woman with many things who has not sometimes felt that way—"I wish I were not needed quite so much. I wish I were more free."

Was there ever a human being who has not envied sometimes the friend who was not there? Oh, dear, I do love my people very dearly, but sometimes I wish I were not needed quite so much. I wish I were more free."

My friends, it is not possible to be needed too much. You think of the needs of others as chains upon you. They are that, but in the sense you think them. EVERYONE WHO NEEDS YOU IS A GOOD CHAIN THAT PIN'S YOU TO HAPPINESS.

And furthermore, any chain of this sort is an ornament. The women of the orient wear chains of gold, sometimes encrusted with jewels, as ornaments. They are not half so great an adornment as these chains you wear, for these are forged in the workshop of human needs out of the precious metal of your selfishness and your usefulness. The most tragic thing in life is not to be needed, not to have any of these more than golden chains to wear.

You will notice that almost everyone who finds himself by force of circumstances, robbed of these precious adornments, immediately tries to forge new chains of one kind or another. The woman who has no children tries to make herself necessary to some club or philanthropy or to some social group. And, believe me, my friends, these artificial chains which she forges with so much effort, are not half so beautiful as the chains which have been forged for you in the workshop of human needs. Have a wife, writer. Only the selfish and the useless are ever free. Those who are worth anything in this world are bound by a hundred chains upon them.

Remember this when you hanker for independence, and remember also that every one of the hundred chains are golden chains binding you tight to happiness.

FIRST AID TO INJURED HEARTS

By Laura Jean Libbey.

HIS WIFE'S WAGES

(Copyright, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.)

How much truth is there in the words of the poet who tells of her who exchanged her maiden gladness for a wealth who weds exchanges the position of petted daughter for that of humored, idolized wife, with few added cares.

It is the woman who makes her own way in the world by her own industry who should look earnestly at wedlock from every viewpoint. If she has been accustomed to dress neatly and having the wherewith to treat herself to any little luxury she craved, it would be only just and right to come to a clear understanding with the man she is to wed regarding the disbursement of his income after their marriage. This no man should dislike to discuss, declaring that it savors too much of business.

That is a wrong view of the matter on his part and should be a forewarning of future difficulties in this direction. For he is the kind of man who expects to be an upper servant, as it were, doing the entire work of his house for her board and clothes. The young wedded man who would have the luxury of a home of his own, knows that he must pay a capable housekeeper or maid a goodly sum if he would have her services. Why, then, should such a man grumble if his wife asks him for a modest sum to buy a new gown? The world would be shocked if it but knew how many wives of supposedly well-to-do men, about without the second nickel for car fare in their pockets.

The wife does not ask money as salary or wages, but she has a right to expect a certain amount as part of the money which she promised her at the altar she would be endowed with. She does not presume that she will have to wait until he dies to have this contract carried out; but, on the contrary, that he will share with her as they go along. No matter how much a wife loves her husband, it soon becomes irksome to her to go to him for every penny she needs or to give an account to him of every cent she spends.

Even a housekeeper would resent too close an inquiry into the expenditures and consider that her judgment was competent as to how much she should invest; that a dollar or two more than had been calculated should not be argued over.

The paid housekeeper has an advantage over the unpaid wife. She is not called upon to give up any of her earnings for sudden reverses. She can leave whenever she chooses, having no life compact on her hands. The disadvantage of being penniless after working a lifetime for a husband ends in a wife's breakdown.

No man who loves his wife and can afford her a handsome income should allow her to be without it. Being a wife does not always bring its rightful reward. Most husbands mean well in this respect, but are simply thoughtless.

ANSWERS

"OH, DEAR ME!"

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am of good family, but poor, have a fairly good education, and am full of fun. I have a lady friend of about 20. I have been in love with her for the last 12 months. We have been engaged for about six months."

"She treats me nicely in her parlor one evening in every seven, but she is not any more familiar now than she was before we were engaged. When we are in company it seems as if she wishes them to think she cares absolutely nothing for me. When I ask her to prove her love she refuses; but I must say she treats me with fair respect. However, I am quite sure she could treat me much better than she does."

"Oh, dear me! If she only knew how my poor heart is filled with love for her, she would be different. She is a lovely little belle, admired by one and all. Under the circumstances, should I not ask her to marry me?"

SHALL SHE DIVORCE HIM?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been married a number of years, raised my family, and always have been a good, kind mother to them. Do you believe it right for a woman to live all her life with a man that treated her worse than a dog, and is an habitual drunkard? I am an old looking woman, am considered good looking, and could get a good man that would show me kindness, something I never received from my husband."

"Do you believe in divorce? I belong to a church that does not. I would not like my boys to support me after they are married, and I will not have my husband keep me. What shall I do?"

THE HASKIN LETTER

CARIBBEAN POLITICS
III PORTO RICO AND SUGAR
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 17.—Seldom has any country, large or small, had so much at stake as Porto Rico has today in the legislation pending in Congress to put sugar on the free list. When this island was made a part of the territory of the United States, the sugar tariff operated in such a way as to make the sugar business of the island one affording such rich returns that forthwith practically every other industry was neglected and the Porto Rican people committed the economic mistake of putting all their eggs in one basket. Practically every foot of available land was transformed into cane fields. Thousands upon thousands of acres of pasture lands, which had hitherto brought fair returns to their owners, were engaged in cattle raising, were converted into sugar plantations, and sugar mills sprang up almost overnight in every part of the island.

The result has been that the annual output of sugar has increased from 20,000 tons, prior to the passage of the Foraker act, to nearly 350,000 tons, in 1911. Sugar planters have found the business so rich in its returns that they have straightway invested the earnings in extending their mills and plantations. The result has been that an "economic condition" has been brought about in which practically the entire prosperity of the island is bound up in the question of free or taxed sugar in the United States.

Free Duty Helps Laborers. The wages of the laboring class of Porto Rico have enhanced remarkably under the great stimulation of the industry through the admission of Porto Rican sugar duty free into the United States. All authorities agree that the average price of labor in Porto Rico at the beginning of the decade just closed approximated 20 cents a day. It now approximates 60 cents a day. In order to build the great mills, or sugar centrals, the sugar planters had to borrow much money from the banks, and nearly every one of these mills is now under a heavy burden of debt. The banks fear that the sugar mills will cease to be profitable if the tariff on sugar is removed, and they have served notice on the sugar planters that they must have their money. In such a situation it is little wonder that there is panic among the sugar planters of Porto Rico.

Today the sugar planters and manufacturers pay approximately one-half of the insular budget of Porto Rico, a budget which amounts to $2,800,000 a year. Out of that budget $1,200,000 is spent on education. The planters declare they will not be able to pay their taxes if sugar is put on the free list, and that the schools of the island must suffer. The assessed value of the sugar lands of the island averages $92 an acre. If the free sugar duty is taken off, the planters assert that the producing value of their land will be vastly cut down. They say that they have builded up the sugar industry on the island on the assumption that the tariff would be continued, and that they have a right to demand, not merely to petition, that the duty on sugar in the United States shall be continued.

Intense Dread of Free Sugar. How intensely in earnest are the sugar planters of Porto Rico in their dread of free sugar may be shown by a few remarks made by them at a luncheon given to the newspaper men accompanying Secretary Knox, at San Juan. In the speech making which followed the luncheon, one of the speakers declared that the newspaper men came there on Palm Sunday, and that the sugar planters of the island appealed to them to assist the Porto Ricans in preventing the Good Friday of Porto Rican history. This remark was echoed by every speaker, each one reiterating the idea that the sugar industry of their country was about to be crucified by the government of the United States.

There are those outside of Porto Rico who do not believe that all of the dire prophecies of the sugar planters of the island will come true if the sugar tariff is lowered, or even eliminated. While they admit that the tariff has made the sugar business in Porto Rico an immensely profitable business, guaranteeing the planters a bounty of $1.68 per 100 pounds, they are not inclined to agree with the Porto Rican idea that sugar cannot be raised profitably without at least a part of this tariff. While conditions in Cuba and in Porto Rico, with reference to the sugar industry, are not fully comparable, at the same time, some light on the profits of the sugar business in Porto Rico may be gathered from experience in Cuba. The leading sugar-land dealer of Cuba has recently effected the sale of a sugar estate with a capacity of 250,000 bags of sugar a year. The net income from this estate for a period of years, according to the books which were produced and examined by the English syndicate which bought the estate, averaged $700,000 a year. The price paid for the property was $2,000,000. It will be seen from this that the average annual net income on the investment was 23 per cent, or $2.80 per bag of sugar. The differential, enjoyed by the Cuban sugar planter in the American sugar markets, is about 32-6-10 cents per 100 pounds, as compared with the $1.48 per 100 pounds protection afforded the Porto Rican planter.

Cannot Produce as Cheaply. It is generally recognized that the Porto Rican sugar planter cannot produce sugar as cheaply as his neighbor in Cuba, due to the fact that the land must be planted about every two years in Porto Rico, whereas the average planting in Cuba lasts for about seven years. The Porto Rican sugar planter declares that the amount of sugar in cane approximates 10 per cent. Disinterested people put the figure at 12 per cent. The Porto Ricans claim that it costs $4.50 a ton to raise the cane. That would be $39 a ton for the sugar. They assert that it costs $15 to manufacture a ton of sugar. The average price for Porto Rican sugar in New York for 10 years has been $3.59 a hundred pounds. According to these figures, the price per ton of sugar, without any tariff, would be $17.50. According to the testimony of Don Antonio Alcide of the Sugar Growers association of Porto Rico, the profits, without tariff, would be $11.50. The difference in these two estimates arises from the fact that he assumes that the cane yields only 10 per cent of sugar, whereas disinterested authorities put it at 12 per cent. It is probable that the truth lies somewhere between these two estimates.

The Porto Rican sugar planter cannot understand the point of view of those Americans who assert that the sugar tariff makes them pay approximately two cents a pound more for their sugar than they would have to pay otherwise, and who protest against being made to pay this extra price in order that there may be prosperity among the sugar planters. It is claimed by some Americans that the sugar tariff makes the American people pay out $150,000,000 a year extra for sugar. The total value of the Porto Rican sugar crop is $25,000,000, and it represents over five-eighths of the total production of all kinds of commodities exported from the island.

Would Injure Porto Ricans. With everything in Porto Rico predicated on the rich returns of the sugar business, however right or wrong in principle the sugar tariff may be, its abolition, or serious reduction, must constitute a stunning blow to Porto Rican prosperity. Much of the land now in sugar cane was bought at a value based on the earnings power under the present tariff, and mortgages were given on that basis. Much other land has been leased for long terms, on the basis of present values of production. In the southern portion of the island, a large irrigation project, embracing some 30,000 acres of land, is nearing completion, at a cost which will involve a bonded debt of nearly $100 per acre. An instance of the abnormal conditions that have sprung up by reason of the profitable status of the sugar industry under the existing tariff is the fact that sugar lands in Porto Rico are worth 15 times as much as similar lands in the adjoining country of Santo Domingo. It is inevitable that great losses would follow, at

LOUISE GUNNING IN

"THE BALKAN PRINCESS"

Miss Louise Gunning is meeting with unusual success in her present tour with "The Balkan Princess," the musical play which ran in New York for six months last season.

Miss Gunning, who will be recalled for her part as the Princess Stephanie, who is about to ascend the throne of Rararia, a mythical Balkan state. It is found, however, that before she can take it will be necessary for her to marry one of the six grand dukes of the realm, and accordingly these men are all of the play. The play is a great American selling, which for the basis of the comedy. Unlike at college plays, "The Campus" does not depend upon any phase of college life, which in this instance creates around the writing of a minor farce. The fun is natural and spontaneous throughout. The music of "The Campus" has been called a "hit" of the day, as it is full of the liveliest and catchiest tunes. Among the songs are "How do-do," "Is Everybody Happy?" "I Love It to You," "The Same Old Love," "Before You Are Old," etc.

are commanded to appear before her. One of them, Duke Sergius, refuses to put in his appearance, and so greatly is the woman's curiosity aroused (and her anger at being treated in such a fashion) that she decides to go in search of the recalcitrant duke.

She finds him in a Bohemian restaurant on the outskirts of the kingdom. They meet and, of course, fall in love. But Sergius has an affair with a pretty habitude of the place, and as the festivities of the evening are about to be brought to a close, this little tiff reminds Sergius that he has not drunk his usual toast. It happens that the toast is to the "downfall of Princess Stephanie," and when this sentiment is proposed, the pretty stranger reveals her identity and orders the arrest of her detestable.

Lily and the Rose and the now famous "Stein" song.

"The Campus," May 7. "The Boy and the Girl" will be the second night's engagement of Ferris Hartman and company.

A STRENUOUS WORKER

Mr. Roney, manager of the "Roney's Boys" concert company, has always been known as a strenuous and tireless worker. His great choir in Grace Episcopal church, Chicago, in the 10 years it was under his direction, became famous in this country and Europe, and of it the New York Churchman, the leading Episcopal church paper in this country, said, "Mr. Roney's choir at Grace church, Chicago, is the epitome of American church music." A stronger statement, from higher authority, could not well be made. He was elected to conduct the annual choir festival in the Auditorium, Chicago, consisting of 32 choirs, numbering 800 boys and 400 men, the largest festival of the kind ever held in this country. He was also selected to direct the music of the National Peace Jubilee in Chicago, at the close of the Spanish-Cuban war, at which nearly every church choir in Chicago sang in the chorus, and which was attended by President McKinley and his wife.

Upon his work as musical director he was warmly congratulated by the president.

"Roney's Boys" will give two entertainments today at the High school auditorium. At the matinee this afternoon the boys and girls are asked to bring 10 cents and a potato. The evening entertainment begins at 8 o'clock. Tickets on sale at the Y. M. C. A. and at Whitney's.

Mr. Moran had the misfortune to cross some dangerous characters. They therefore wrote him a threatening letter informing him that unless he was prepared to hand over the sum of $5,000, they would take revenge upon his wife and child. The chief of the police advised him to take his wife and child away to a place of safety. Mr. Moran placed them in charge of his trusted chauffeur, who drove them away into the country. The desperadoes had no other means of capturing him, and an exciting scene follows when the chauffeur is shot down and the car goes madly careening on without the man at the wheel. The chauffeur is taken to a cottage, from which he makes his escape. In spite of a severe wound he manages to make his way back home and to get the police upon the trail of the men, who are captured after an exciting struggle. Meanwhile the car is stopped by some other automobilists before it comes to a disastrous end. Thus the desperadoes are arrested, and all is at last right through the brave conduct of the man in the auto. On the same reel.

"The Adventures of an Amateur Hypnotist."—A smart young man is invited to display his skill as a hypnotist at a party. He manages to work the influence until he meets a charming young lady who is also a hypnotist. Their powers over other people clash when they meet, and thus, instead of exercising an attraction over each other, they are unable to get near to each other as they would like. The situation becomes serious, as they have fallen in love but, of course, love making is out of the question when the lovers are unable to approach each other. The spell is at last broken by a professional hypnotist, who hypnotizes them both. Under the spell they are again able to act normally, thus things are set right once more. Take heed, ye amateur dabblers in mesmerism, lest ye bungle things slightly and meet a similar fate. And so the story continues and two hearts are made happy. And just think of the gladness, happy hearts at the majestic, the smiling faces of those witnessing the show and listening to the best music and all for 5 cents, any seat.

AFTER AMBASSADOR BRYCE

Unionist Members, House of Commons, take Exception to His Stand Regarding Reciprocity.

LONDON, May 2.—Unionist members of the house of commons are preparing to catechize the government regarding what they characterize as Ambassador Bryce's "treasonable act" in supporting the proposals made by President Taft in the matter of Canadian reciprocity and as to whether the government proposes to recall the ambassador.

Arthur Shirley Renn is anxious to know if Mr. Bryce was aware that the object of reciprocity was to make Canada an "adjunct of the United States." His acquiescence therein was not treasonable and whether, in view of the published correspondence between President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt, if it is the intention of the government to recall the ambassador. Questions also will be addressed to Premier Asquith, directing his attention to the letter on reciprocity written by President Taft to Theodore Roosevelt a year ago last January and recently made public, and suggesting the urgency of the policy for imperial preference to defeat American designs.

Another question of which notice has been given will ask whether the government was aware of President Taft's intention to make Canada only an "adjunct of the United States" when they instructed Ambassador Bryce to assist the passage of the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada.

An effort will be made to raise the whole question on motion for an adjournment Monday evening.

OHIO BANKER ARRESTED

CINCINNATI, O., May 2.—E. E. Galbreath, former president of the Second National bank of this city, was arrested here today by a United States marshal on a charge of misappropriating the funds of the bank. The bank was recently discovered to be in an embarrassed condition and is now being operated by members of the Cincinnati Clearing House association.

After the bank was taken over by the clearing house, new officers were placed in control.

The warrant for Galbreath's arrest charged him with having misappropriated funds of the bank to the amount of $35,000.

Before becoming president of the Second National bank, Galbreath was a federal bank examiner.

The transaction upon which the warrant was issued occurred on April 2. It is alleged that on that date, Galbreath placed in the Second National bank a draft for $35,000, drawn on the Third National bank of St. Louis, of which his brother, G. W. Galbreath, is vice president. It is charged that he then drew out of the Second National funds aggregating this amount, although he had no account with the St. Louis bank. Following his arrest, Galbreath was taken before United States Commissioner Adler. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and waived examination. Bond was fixed at $15,000.

BANK ROBBER SENTENCED
BRIGHTON, Colo., May 2.—Dwight Briggs, who on March 3 last held up and robbed the Aurora Star bank, pleaded guilty to the charge here yesterday afternoon. He was sentenced by District Judge McCall to serve not less than five and not more than 10 years in the penitentiary.

The Haskin Letter

CARIBBEAN POLITICS III—PORTO RICO AND SUGAR

By Frederic J. Haskin.

though it is an open question whether or not these losses would be more important in determining the issue than the interest of 90,000,000 people who live in the Caribbean island states.

The Country's Contentions.

Porto Rico claims that it is vitally important to the United States in consideration of this tariff concession. All of its sugar must be carried away in American steamships, on which the charges for transportation are higher than they would be in foreign bottoms. It is also contended that for every dollar that the United States pays to Porto Rico for raw sugar, it gets a dollar back for manufactured goods, and that buying its products in the protected markets of the United States, it is entitled to have the same benefits given to its sugar entering into the United States.

For instance, in 1911, Porto Rico bought 127,000,000 pounds of rice from the United States—rice on which there was a tariff of $2 a hundred pounds. The neighboring island of Jamaica was able to buy its rice with a duty of only 6 cents a hundred pounds. Porto Rico claims that it paid an additional two and a half million dollars to the United States for rice alone because of the tariff on that commodity.

While everybody admits that the blow which would descend upon Porto Rico by a sudden reduction of the tariff, or by its elimination, would be a severe one, not everybody agrees that it would be an unmitigated evil. Some assert that there is vast opportunity for growing tobacco, pineapples and citrus fruits, and for general trucking, while the rehabilitation of the coffee industry would be a great boon to the people, affording the small farmer an opportunity, and giving the wealth of the country better opportunity to be more widely distributed.

The cattle-raising industry is also a profitable one that has been almost eliminated by the demands for sugar lands. Those who take this view say that while the elimination of the sugar tariff would be felt for several years it would on the other hand cause Porto Rican industry to be developed, giving employment to making the island's prosperity dependent upon one industry alone.

TWO MEN HELD FOR MURDER

Direct Informations Charge W. H. Edwards and Franz Russ With Killing James Warford.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 2.—Direct informations charging murder were filed in the district court here today by District Attorney J. E. Ferguson against William H. Edwards and Franz Russ. The two men are accused of the murder of James Warford and are held under bonds of $1,000 each.

A direct information charging obtaining money under false pretenses, was filed against William T. Ross, chief of Cherokee tribe of Indians. He is accused of passing a fraudulent check on the National hotel and skipping out without paying his board bill. He was arrested in Canon City and was returned to this city today.

Fertile Land in Weld

Co. Narrowly Escapes Flood by Breaking Dam.

GREELEY, Colo., May 2.—Scores of men and teams summoned for miles around last night worked under a torch light putting bags of sand for a distance of 400 feet on the north bank of Latham reservoir, six miles southeast of here, to prevent what seemed to be a break.

A south wind, which is rare in this country, caused the heavy waves to beat against the retaining wall, pounding at the cement lining and wearing it away, then setting into the earth with great rapidity.

Discovery of this condition was made in the nick of time and a general alarm was sent out over the telephone by Miss Maud Royce, telephone operator at Evans. Had it not been for the fact that the wind died down just in time, 400 feet of the bank would have been washed away and hundreds of acres of the most fertile land in Weld county inundated.

Pupils in the East Evans school were dismissed and told to go at once to their homes and notify their parents. The reservoir covers an area of three square miles and contains water to a depth of 12 feet to 15 feet. The embankment is 20 feet high.

SAVES $25,000 FROM LOSS AND GETS REWARD OF $1

CHICAGO, May 2.—Edward Stone, a brakeman on an accommodation train running between Chicago and Libertyville, last night held in his hands an old shoe box containing $25,000 without being aware of its contents. The box had been left on the train at Morton Grove by Herbert Schoenberg. Before the train departed, Schoenberg dashed into a car and asked Stone if he had seen the box. It was handed to Schoenberg unopened, who explained to the brakeman that it contained money for starting a new bank. Stone was rewarded with one dollar.

COLORADO PHYSICIAN UPSETS DAMAGE SUIT

CHICAGO, May 2.—A damage suit for $25,000 against the city was upset by Dr. George L. Chapman of Greeley, Colo., here yesterday during the last five minutes of the hearing.

The plaintiff in the case was Mary Sheridan, 14 years old, who made the claim that her hip had been permanently injured by a fall on the sidewalk. The accident happened 11 years ago, but suit was not brought until a few months ago.

Previous testimony had been much in favor of the child and it appeared that the jury might give her at least a large part of the $25,000.

Dr. Chapman testified that he had operated on the child's hip in 1901 for

Father, Life Term for Murder, Meets Son Who Is to Die for Killing Man

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 2.—Nelson Fratts and his son John, both convicted of murder, the father a life term and the son sentenced to be hanged in June, met in the office of the warden of the penitentiary here last night. It was the first time they had met since 1900 when the father entered the penitentiary. John was then 8 years old. When the son was 17 years old he committed a theft which resulted in his being sent to the reformatory at Jeffersonville. Last year he killed a guard there and for this crime was condemned to die.

For a few minutes the elder Fratts refused to believe the young man was his son, but was finally convinced.

tuberculosis of the joint. The jury gave a verdict for the city.

Back to Nature's Food

With the advent of Spring and Summer comes a desire for closer contact with Nature and for a simpler, more rational diet. When you get back to Nature you will want to get back to Nature's food. Cut out meat and potatoes for a while and eat with fresh green vegetables. It will mean health, strength and Summer joy.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit and Berries

Because of its porous shreds and its Biscuit form Shredded Wheat combines most naturally with all kinds of fresh fruits, presenting them to the palate in all the richness of their natural flavor.

Heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness and then cover it with berries or other fresh fruits and serve with milk or cream.

ROAD IMPROVED—The road to the Star ranch has been considerably improved this spring in preparation for the summer travel. It has been widened and graveled along the entire distance for the use of automobiles.

NEW MEMBERS—Four applications for membership in the Chamber of Commerce were received by the membership committee yesterday. They are: George L. Bender, Clear company, Adams Express company, Harbord & Lantz and M. A. Skinner.

FIRE—A forest fire was discovered yesterday noon on Cheyenne mountain, a short distance southwest of the county poor farm, and for a time it threatened to become serious, a stiff wind fanning it up the mountain. However it died out late in the afternoon, and it is thought that little damage was done.

INCORPORATION—Articles of incorporation of the Cascade Oil and Refining company were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday by Lewis G. Carpenter, H. Alexander Smith and Edward A. Rosenfeld. The company is capitalized at $300,000, full paid and nonassessable. J. Condit Smith, M. B.

Wild Rice

A most appetizing side dish for game in wild rice, steamed and buttered and flavored to taste. It is so tender that it needs only to be steamed.

which is peculiarly rich and delicious.

As an accompaniment for meats and especially for wild game, it is unsurpassed.

Chamber of Commerce

Approves Federal Bill

The bill asking for a report on Colorado mineral springs from federal experts, recently introduced in the house by Congressman Taylor, was approved by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting at the Alta Vista hotel yesterday noon. The bill asks that the government investigate all the springs, analyze the water and make an official report on every spring.

Leonard E. Curtis made a report to the Commerce directors on his recent trip to Salt Lake City over the proposed Lincoln highway to the state line, and over a Utah road which will be reconstructed to connect with the Colorado route to Salt Lake City.

WILL COLLECT BOND

The district attorney's office has filed notice in the district court that, unless a bond of $500, given for the appearance of A. Mann, is paid within the next week, steps will be taken to collect it.

Mann is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, and the case has been in the district court since September, 1910. The defendant and his attorney, James A. Orr, signed the bond, which Judge Sheaffer declared forfeited September 2, 1911. It was said yesterday that, unless the bond is paid by May 10, the district attorney's office will institute suit to collect it.

SEED FUND $7,900

The Chamber of Commerce seed and feed fund was increased to $7,900, yesterday, by the following subscriptions: Anonymous, $100; Dr. G. E. Webb, $5; Dr. J. C. Brubaker, $5; J. F. Humphrey, $5; A. H. Hunt, $5; B. A. Briggs, $5; Dr. C. A. Rutledge, $5; and B. Whitehead, $5. The fund still lacks $2,100 of the required amount, and the time for planting is close at hand, so if the Chamber accomplishes its purpose, the remaining subscriptions must be handed in in the near future.
